Life and Death By Candlelight

DETROIT, Mich., May 8—Down in the basement room of the tall power house which took its energy from the swiftly flowing, specially dammed River Rouge just outside its walls, and with it heated and lighted, the late Henry Ford's great gray stone castle, Fair Lane, there is a red line on the wall to note the height of flood water as of April 7, 1947, which was the last day on earth for the man who made the Tin Lizzie and changed all our lives.

The waters put the power plant out of commission, and so it came about that Henry Ford died as he was born, by candlelight.

There is a sort of fantastic series of coincidences in his last day of which the exit from life by candlelight was but one. Another was his visit late in the afternoon to the spot where he was to be buried.

The estate of this man of essentially simple tastes, who went about jotting down ideas, slogans and philosophy in five-cent notebooks, leaving behind almost a thousand to please and confuse the picklock biographers of the future, was not simple.

The room in which he died is now an office. In it one may look out the doors to the sunporch windows and see and hear the song of the River Rouge, still soothing and musical over its dam.

There were 1,400 acres in the estate in Henry Ford's days. It was sufficient unto itself, with its own power plant, water system, telephone and light systems and its own police force.

Peacocks and Deer

Peacocks spread their picturesque tails on its 60 acres of lawns. Wild water fowl liked the river and the lake where Clara Ford enjoyed riding in her electric boat. Smaller birds enjoyed the English garden and the acres where almost 8,000 roses grew, representing more than 300 varieties. A private herd of deer shared the woods with smaller wild things, rabbits and squirrels. Fifteen gardeners worked to keep it pretty.

The house was built for all time. Dominating the north bank of River Rouge, it has outside walls of Indiana limestone, 14 to 18 inches thick. The interior walls are a foot thick. There are 55 rooms, eight fireplaces, 15 baths. There are 65 telephone extensions on the private system.

The water system was Henry Ford's pride and joy. He liked to harness water, pointing out it cost nothing once it was put to work. So, he built a four-story powerhouse and connected it with the house by a tunnel, well-paved, painted and neat, running a full 300 feet from the house.

On the fourth floor was Henry Ford's private laboratory.

There were 10 other buildings on the estate. There was a six-room bungalow, a skating lodge by the lake where one could be warm in winter when there was ice for skating. There was a tree house, a maple sugar cabin, a Santa Claus house where the children came for Christmas celebrations, a pony stable and four servants' cottages.

Forlorn and Wistful

Today, it all seems a little sad. The generators are there and the man who had charge of them for 27 years keeps them in order. He, too, seems forlorn and wistful, remembering how Henry Ford would come and watch the generators go, and be pleased with them. "It's all over," he said.

But now modern utilities have replaced the old. The swimming pool of Italian marble and bronze was filled in and over it was built a storage room for the archives. In the bowling alley are also neat boxes of documents.

The Ford Motor Co. bought Fair Lane from the estate and has sold 606 acres, but all the rest, including seven gardens, will be maintained. There are five guards, now, and eight gardeners. The apple orchards, which once yielded thousands of bushels, are blooming, but will not be cultivated. The deer are gone, but it still is beautiful. The memory of the simple man of luxurious tastes, who lived there with little company, remains. One almost expects to see him come, tall, thin-lipped and severe, to protest against the change, and to say he has decided to return again to life.

High Dive Killed Girl, Says Tongay

MIAMI, Fla., May 8—(AP)—Russell Tongay said today that his tiny swimming star daughter was fatally injured in a 33-foot high dive and I "hold myself completely responsible for my baby daughter's death."

But Tongay denied that he whipped his daughter 24 hours before she died Wednesday night as he was formally booked on a charge of second degree murder.

Police said an autopsy showed 5-year-old Kathy Tongay had been "brutally beaten."

Both Tongay and his attractive wife gave statements to the Miami Daily News after the 36-year-old father of the famed "Aquatots" had been booked and freed in $5,000 bail so he could attend his daughter's funeral.

Mrs. Tongay said she had given Kathy a spanking Tuesday night while Tongay was away—but that it was not much of a whipping—"just the kind that any parent gives when their children don't mind."

TalmadgeDoctor Doubts Mumps Threatens Ike

Governor Talmadge has the mumps, but his physician says it is doubtful whether President Eisenhower and 45 other governors are in any danger.

Dr. F. Kells Boland Friday definitely diagnosed the Georgia governor's illness as a light case of mumps on the right side. Talmadge had the disease on the left side while he was in college.

The Georgia governor became ill Thursday, two days after returning from Washington where he attended a White House conference Monday and Tuesday.

Slugged, Robbed After Blood Gift

An insurance man who had just donated a pint of blood to the Red Cross Friday morning was dragged from his car on 15th St. Friday night, beaten with a rock and robbed of $250 in checks and cash.

William L. Robbins, 30, of 419 Venable St., N. W., told Detectives O. L. Adams and R. A. Boone he was making regular monthly collections for his Insurance Co. He said he was in a weakened condition from donating blood to the Red Cross.

As he turned from Hemphill into 14th St., he said two men jerked open the door of his car, pulled on the brake and robbed him. Then, he said, they struck him twice with a large rock. Robbins was unconscious for almost half an hour before a passing motorist saw him and called the police.

3,500 Along As Patrol Eyes Capital

By KEELER McCARTNEY
Constitution Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 8—As 3,500 Georgia school children swarmed about the nation's capital today on a sightseeing spree at the national school patrol get-together, one of them fell out with measles, another sprained an ankle on an escalator, and a third got a kiss from Vice-President Nixon.

Jean Thompson, 11, of Fairburn, won a big smack on the forehead when she and Ray Barday, 11, of Atlanta, went to Nixon's office along with four other school patrol heroes to receive gold medals for saving lives of other children at the risk of their own.

SEVERAL ILL

Georgia's delegation set up a sick bay in Hotel Harrington for Patricia Patterson of Atlanta who was quarantined with measles soon after arriving in Washington, and Nick Anderson of Atlanta who fell on an escalator, Police Chief Herbert Jenkins said.

Jean's kiss came when Nixon was told that she was a great admirer of his. Ray, looking sharp in his bow tie, got a hardy handshake from the Vice-President.

All six of the school patrol heroes were shy when they faced Nixon, but the Vice-President told the youngsters that meeting him was "part of the cost of the medal." Ray's face turned crimson red when someone asked him to move closer to Jean to pose for pictures. He moved an inch, and no one pushed him any farther.

STATE HEROES

Both Sen. George and Sen. Russell were on hand to congratulate the Georgia hero and heroine. Jean, a student at the M. P. Word School, had won her medal for pushing three fear-stricken youngsters from the path of a train. Ray, a student at the James L. Mason School, pulled two boys from th epath of a

A-Bomb Hits Bunkers and Fake Forest

2 Drones Fly Into Rim of Blast

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 8 (AP)—One of America's more powerful A-bombs blasted simulated military installations and ignited flaming torches amid a mock forest today on the barren desert of Nevada Proving Ground.

Two drone planes flew safely through the rim of the blast which was set off 2,500 feet above Frenchman Flat, and 20 Air Force planes, fully manned, cruised near the atomic cloud shortly after the explosion.

The bomb was dropped by a B-50 from Kirtland AFB, Albuquerque, N. M., at 10:30 a. m. Atlanta time, momentarily dulling the sun.

2,000 TROOPS

On the ground, 2,000 Army troops were able to move forward in maneuvers an hour after the blast to observe many fires burning in the area near ground zero. The Atomic Energy Commission's report gave no clear indication, but fire apparently raged in structures and trees.

Amazingly, however, the AEC reported that some of the larger pine trees, brought down from the nearby Charleston Mountains and anchored in concrete, still were standing.

The detonation tested bunkers and simulated fortifications, both above and underground, and a series of wall segments and textile samples mounted for civilian defense experiments. Twenty-five autos which survived previous tests were also subjected to the blast.

RECORD 100 PLANES

The Air Force used a record contingent of 100 planes for all purposes, including the usual aircraft for radiation tracking and scientific measurements.

This was the eighth shot, and one of the strongest, of the spring series. It was the first this year at Frenchman Flat.

The blast broke windows and smashed light bulbs in two buildings at the AEC's Camp Mercury, less than 10 miles away.

Sgt. Daniel To Arrive by Plane Sunday

Sgt. James F. Daniel, Covington's repatriated prisoner of war, is scheduled to arrive in Atlanta by plane early Sunday on his way home. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Daniel of Covington, and a home-town delegation will be at the Municipal Airport to greet him.

The sergeant, his wife and their two children are flying here from Alameda, Calif.—where his wife has been living—with the aid of funds donated Thursday by citizens of Covington and nearby areas during a special radio broadcast.

Covington is planning a big parade in honor of the Army veteran at 3:30 p. m. Monday. The parade is slated to begin at the Covington High School and move to the town square where merchants, veterans' organizations and city officials will honor Sergeant Daniel.

Wife Found Strangled, Wrist-Cut JP Is Held

A 60-year-old Red Oak justice of the peace was ordered held under guard in Grady Hospital Friday by Atlanta police, who said he apparently strangled his wife and then attempted to kill himself.

E. B. Gundberg of Roosevelt Highway near Red Oak in Fulton County was listed in critical condition by Grady physicians. Grady records showed Gundberg had tendon cuts on both wrists, a stab wound in the chest and another in the neck. He also had swallowed iodine and a quantity of a powerful drug, according to Grady reports.

Gundberg's wife was pronounced dead by police who found her body near her husband when they entered the frame house a mile and a half south of Red Oak.

Detectives E. F. McKillop and J. E. Helms of the Atlanta Police homicide division said the woman apparently had been dead for about four hours when they found her body.

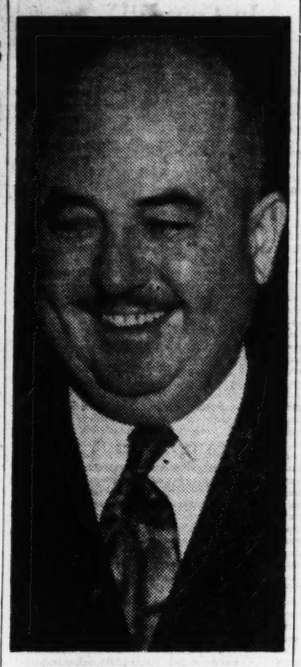

They said she had several bruises and marks on her throat. The officers listed the death as apparent strangulation.

According to reports, Gundberg called police at about 10 a. m. Friday and reported a "disturbance" at his home. When the police arrived they found the home shuttered and all doors locked.

They went into the house by removing a back door from its hinges. Inside, McKillop said, they found Gundberg at a couch with a knife and two razor blades nearby.

Mrs. Gundberg, who was 55, was on the floor of a nearby bedroom. McKillop said two notes signed by Gundberg were also found in the house.

A coroner's inquest will be conducted at the Carmichael Funeral Home in East Point Monday to determine the exact cause of death.

CRITICIZES REDUCTION
Rep. Prince Preston Jr.

Cut Unwise, Opinion of Rep. Preston

By M. L. ST. JOHN

Rep. Prince Preston declared here Friday that many Georgians who voted for Eisenhower aren't happy over the Republican economy program which is cutting into Georgia's progress.

The First District congressman, here to address the Georgia Tech Student Council at a banquet meeting, viewed the over-all Republican budget plan as "unwise." He is a member of the appropriations committee.

Preston said a proposed transfer of the Civil Aeronautics Administration headquarters from Atlanta cannot be justified dollar-wise. It would leave the Southeast without a policy-level CAA office. Consolidation of the seven regional offices into four would save only $1,500,000 the congressman added. Such saving would be negligible in view of the inconveniences to the public and the travel involved in reaching the fewer regional offices, Preston stated.

The cutback in federal airport funds will seriously affect airport development in Georgia, Preston continued. Atlanta and other Georgia cities put up funds to match federal money to build airports, he said.

Preston was particularly critical of the Republican administration's attitude toward the farmers.

"The present Republican administration's attitude toward our

Keep Guard Up, Ike, St. Laurent Tell Free World

WASHINGTON, May 8—(AP)—President Eisenhower and Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent declared today that the new Communist "aggression" in Southeast Asia casts "doubts" on Russia's peace claims.

In a joint statement the two chiefs of state called on all free nations to keep up their guard against possible Communist aggression in other areas of the world.

The President and St. Laurent said recent developments in Korea "have seemed more hopeful."

"Nevertheless, in Laos a new act of aggression has been committed which might have serious consequences for Thailand and the whole of Southeast Asia," they said.

"These developments in Southeast Asia must cast doubts on Communist intentions."

Horror of PW Camp Described by Philpott

Prisoners of war at Communist Prison Camp No. 1 have branded the camp hospital "The Death House." And for good reasons, too.

Pvt. Robert Floyd Philpott describes conditions at the hospital in his series of six articles for The Constitution. The first installment will appear in the Sunday Journal-Constitution. The others will follow daily in The Constitution.

Philpott, of Hogansville, Georgia's first repatriated prisoner of war to reach home, describes the mental torture in his story as told to Jack Nelson of The Constitution.

Plan Would Drag Out Repatriation of PWs, Harrison Tells Reds

Ike Gives Up Balancing of '54 Budget

By JOHN L. STEELE

WASHINGTON, May 8—(AP)—The Eisenhower administration today abandoned all hope of balancing the budget next fiscal year, apparently ruling out any chance of a tax reduction this year.

The word was given to the Senate foreign relations committee by Treasury Secretary Humphrey, who said it even may be necessary to ask Congress to increase the national debt limit.

President Eisenhower has said repeatedly that a balanced budget must at least be in sight before taxes are cut. He has the backing of Senate Republican Leader Taft and other Senate fiscal leaders.

Humphrey told of the administration's decision while testifying on the $5,828,000,000 foreign aid bill which is the prime target of many congressmen in their effort to cut federal spending.

He said, "There is no prospect at all for anything but an increase in the national debt at the present time."

"Although I am distressed that

$250 Million To Develop New Weapons

WASHINGTON, May 8—(AP)—Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen said today the Eisenhower administration is working on a special weapons program to give Europe better defenses at less cost.

He made the statements to the Senate foreign relations committee in explaining a $250,000,000 special weapons planning fund in the new $5,828,000,000 foreign aid bill.

Stassen and Treasury Secretary Humphrey testified at a secret session of the committee. Some Democratic committee members said the session should have been open to the press and public.

Stassen told the committee the special weapons program stemmed from a decision by the National Security Council to place more emphasis on new and special weapons in building the U. S. security program.

General Ridgway's North Atlantic Treaty Organization command is studying the relationship of special weapons to the NATO program and will report in August on the findings, Stassen said.

Ridgway's chief of staff, Gen. Alfred M. Grunether, told the same committee recently that NATO planning officers are building "predominant" air power and air tactical atomic weapons.

Stassen insisted atomic weapons are not involved in the new special weapons fund.

CUTBACKS A "MISTAKE"
Senator Russell

Democrats Call Defense Cuts Gamble

By FRANK ELEAZER

WASHINGTON, May 8—(AP)—Congressional Democrats accused President Eisenhower today of "gambling" with the nation's security in cutting the defense budget.

But Republicans rallied to the President's side. They denied that the cuts were risky and said they hoped to trim still more from military spending.

House Democratic whip John McCormack charged that the economy move means the Air Force goal of 143 wings by 1955 will be scrapped.

DELAYS WINGS

"I think the President is taking too big a gamble," he said.

Senator Russell (Dem., Ga.) said cutting Air Force funds too deep "might be the last mistake we would ever make." Russell was chairman of the Senate armed forces committee last year.

General Twining, newly nominated Air Force chief of staff, said the 143-wing goal will not be abandoned. But he said it "will take much longer than planned."

Chairman Short (Rep., Mo.) of the House armed services committee said Mr. Eisenhower had pared former President Truman's defense budget "by just about the right amount."

PLANES BEAR BRUNT

Mr. Eisenhower ordered a $2,300,000,000 slash in military spending in the 12 months starting July 1 and announced a cut of $5,244,000,000 in former President Truman's request for new defense funds.

About 60 per cent of the cash spending cut will be in procurement, with plane deliveries bearing the brunt. About 40 per cent represents a 200,000-man reduction in military manpower.

Hardest hit by the slash in appropriations, which would be spent both in fiscal 1954 and future years, was the Air Force.

Asks Details On Political Conference

By RUTHERFORD POATS

TOKYO, Saturday, May 9—(UP). The United Nations refused today to act on the new Communist proposal for settling the Korean prisoner deadlock until the Reds explain in detail how their complicated plan would work.

In a 32-minute meeting of the truce teams at Panmunjom, the UN's chief negotiator, General Harrison, told North Korean Gen. Nam Il:

"Your proposal fails to set forth sufficient detail for us to give it adequate consideration."

REDS ASK RECESS

Harrison did not reject the eight-point Red plan submitted Thursday, however, and the Communists asked for a recess until 11 a. m. Sunday (9 p. m. Saturday, Atlanta Time).

Instead, he read off a long list of questions demanding specific Communist replies about the operation of prisoner of war camps which the Reds propose would be operated by five "neutral" nations — Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden, Switzerland and India.

Harrison objected in particular to Red proposals that the fate of prisoners unwilling to be repatriated should be postponed until a high-level political conference is held after a Korean armistice is achieved.

"Is an agreement such as this anything more than an agreement to defer the final solution of the prisoner of war question until some later date?" Harrison asked.

7 LANGUAGES

He charged that the Communist plan to put five nations in charge of prisoners "complicated the whole problem by requiring the use of at least seven languages."

The joint custodianship plan, Harrison said, "raises many questions."

The list of questions he put to the Communists asked for detailed replies about such things as how prisoners in the proposed five-nation camps would be fed and supplied, what type of personnel would operate the camps, what languages would be used, how the five powers would divide responsibilities, and whether their

The weatherman predicts temperature ranges of 52 to 78 degrees Saturday and 58 to 84 degrees Sunday. Friday's extremes were 54 and 71.

Boy Writes Mom's Day Card, Drowns in Pool

A 10-year-old boy, who Thursday wrote a Mother's Day card to his mother and told her not to open it until Sunday, drowned in the Atlanta Boys' Club pool about 4 p. m. Friday while a number of boys were swimming nearby.

He was Guy Raymond Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond O. Moore, of 210 Richardson St., Southwest.

The boy's body was pulled from the pool by Dan Allen, 13-year-old junior lifeguard. Herman Guinn, club director, said other swimmers reported the boy had been in the pool only about 30 seconds. Two bruises on the boy's head indicated he had struck the side or bottom of the pool.

Don Proctor, club swimming director and theology student at Emory University, said about 35 boys were swimming in the pool when young Moore drowned. He said he was checking in some other boys at the time. The Moore boy had failed to check in, he said.

The Moore family moved to the neighborhood recently and their son had been a member of the club for only three days.

Because he was a newcomer, his body remained unidentified for 45 minutes after the drowning. Scores of persons viewed the body beside the pool and couldn't establish identity.

Then a 13-year-old girl, sobbing as if she knew what to expect, asked police if she could view the body. She was Evelyn Louise Moore, the boy's sister.

The boy's mother cried hysterically when she learned of the drowning.

"He had written me a Mother's Day card at school," she said. "He told me not to open it until Sunday."

Young Moore, a native of Griffin, was a fourth-grade student at Georgia Avenue School.

U. S. Civilian Pilots Drop Laos Supplies

2 Flying Boxcars Start Lift; All 6 To See Action Today

HANOI, Indochina, May 8—(AP)—American civilian pilots parachuted emergency supplies to the main defenses of the invaded kingdom of Laos today as the Communist retreat apparently halted.

The Americans flew C-119 "Flying Boxcars" on loan from the U. S. Far Eastern Air Forces in Tokyo. Six of the big planes arrived Wednesday from Japan.

The French command stressed the Americans were civilians, but the action was reminiscent of World War II when Gen. Claire Chennault's "Flying Tigers" flew in Burma.

The Flying Tigers resigned their Army and Navy commissions to fly as civilians long before the United States entered the war.

TRIAL RUN

Only two C-119s were in action today. A French command spokesman said a drop of supplies on the Plaine des Jarres was a trial run to give the Americans the feel of the country and that all six planes would join the airlift tomorrow.

Only the pilots of the C-119s were Americans. The rest of the crew—radio operators and navigators—were French.

The French have used other transport planes to carry supplies to the Plaine des Jarres defenses and the threatened royal capital of Luang Prabang, but none was equipped to carry badly needed tanks. Activities today were confined to parachute drops because rains have softened the airfields.

FRENCH PILOTS

The Flying Boxcars, with a payload of eight tons, can carry light tanks or a load of 42 fully equipped soldiers. They are expected to be flown later by French pilots when the Americans give them training.

A French command spokesman said the buildup of French Union forces must go on because it is possible the Vietminh rollback may be only a temporary maneuver.

The spokesman said the Communists have not retreated further since yesterday. Their main forces are grouped about 50 miles north of Luang Prabang.

NOTED EDITOR DIES
John Paschall

Rites Today For Editor Paschall

John Paschall, 73, editor emeritus of The Atlanta Journal, who helped introduce radio in Atlanta and who championed the Southern viewpoint for more than 50 years, died early Friday of coronary thrombosis.

Mr. Paschall, who lived at 522 N. Highland Ave., N. E., died at 5:30 a. m. at the home of his sister-in-law, Miss Lorris O'Conner of 559 Candler St., N. E.

The veteran editor had been in ill health since he suffered the first of three heart attacks in August, 1949.

Mr. Paschall rose from a cub reporter with The Journal in 1901 to editor in chief in 1939, serving in that capacity until 1945, where he was succeeded by the present editor, Wright Bryan.

FUNERAL SATURDAY

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m, Saturday in Spring Hill Chapel. Dean Raimundo de Ovies will officiate. Burial will be in Westview Cemetery.

Mr. Paschall was born in Tullahoma, Tenn., but moved to Atlanta with his family in 1892. He attended the Georgia Military Institute and later was graduated from Vanderbilt University. Following graduation, he joined the staff of The Journal.

In 1906, he became Journal city editor, and in 1917 he was advanced to managing editor. He served as managing editor from 1935 until 1939, when former Ohio Gov. James M. Cox bought The Journal. He then became editor.

CHAMPIONED RADIO

He played an important part in the introduction of radio in Atlanta. When station WSB was in its infancy, he was called upon many times by the National Broadcasting Co. to represent the South in programs on important subjects.

Mr. Paschall took great pride in staff members whom he helped launch upon successful careers. Among those who drew from his experience were Margaret Mitchell, author of "Gone With the Wind," Don Marquis, Ward Greene, Ward Moorehouse, and Wright Bryan.

ON GPA BOARD

Mr. Paschall served for 20 years as a member of the executive board of the Georgia Press Association. He was a chairman of the Georgia Press Institute and a member of the Managing Editor's Association of the Associated Press.

His wife, the former Miss Jessie May Aydelott, died in 1911, just five years after their marriage. He never remarried.

Surviving are a brother, Reginald Paschall, Atlanta; a sister, Mrs. J. A. McNeill, Louisville, Ky.; seven nephews, Rear Adm. W. K. Phillips, Honolulu; Maclin, Goode and Paschall Davis, Nashville Tenn.; Norman H. Davis, New York City; Alex McNeill, Louisville, Ky., and Walter G. Paschall, Atlanta, news director for WSB-radio; and six nieces, Miss Katherine Paschall, Mrs. Martha Lockett, and Mrs. Dorough Seagraves, Sandy Springs; Mrs. Jack Potter and Mrs. John Fenelley, New York City, and Mrs. James Waller, Nashville, Tenn.

Ike Proposes Help in Key Seaway Link

WASHINGTON, May 8—(INS). The Eisenhower administration recommended today that the United States join with Canada in building a key link of the St. Lawrence Seaway between Lake Erie and Montreal.

But the plan unanimously approved by President Eisenhower and his cabinet would leave it up to Canada alone to construct the remainder of the costly seaway.

U. S. participation would be limited to the so-called international section of the waterway and would cost the United States an estimated $95,000,000.

The administration's proposal is essentially the same as one now before the Senate in a bill sponsored by Senator Wiley (Rep., Wis.)

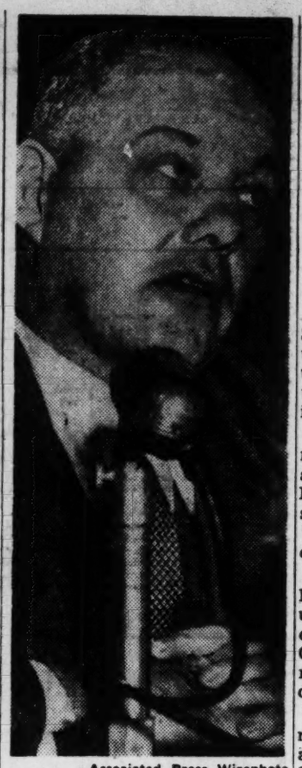

Announcement of the plan was made following two days of conferences with Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, who declared Thursday that Canada is "not bluffing" about building the seaway alone if the U. S. does not want to help.

Navarre Named To Direct French Indochina Forces

Special to The Atlanta Constitution
New York Times News Service

PARIS, May 8 — The French cabinet, at a meeting today, named Gen. Henri Eugene Navarre as commander in chief of French Union forces in Indochina. Gen. Navarre, who is chief of staff to Marshal Alphonse-Pierre Juin, commander of the Allied ground forces of central Europe, under Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's North Atlantic Command, will replace Gen. Raoul Salan, who has conducted the Indochina operations since the death of Marshal Jean de Lattre de Tassigny in January last year.

The shift in command came amid mounting criticism in press and parliament both of the conduct of the war and of allegedly large scale profiteering.

DENIES POWER—WASHINGTON, May 8—George Meany, president of the AFL, told a Senate commerce subcommittee Friday he has no power to kick out Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association. Senator Tobey (Rep., N. H.), chairman of the group investigating crime on the New York-New Jersey waterfront, denounced Ryan and asked Meany if he could kick him out.

MIGs Venture Across Yalu; 3 Damaged

TOKYO, Saturday, May 9—(AP). American Sabrejets damaged three Communist MIGs Friday as the enemy planes flew across the Yalu River into Korea for the first time in eight days.

Ground fighting flared for the first time since Sunday. The U. S. Seventh Division's 17th Regiment beat back attacks by 600 Chinese on Pork Chop Hill on the western front.

A smaller group of 50 Chinese attacked nearby in an area held by the Black Watch Royal Highland Regiment in one of 12 other contacts reported across the front. The Scots beat back the Reds in 25 minutes of fighting.

In other air actions, fighter-bombers poked through dense clouds and dumped bombs on scattered targets. B-29 Superforts dropped 140 tons of bombs near Hungnam.

Senate Debates Bill To Permit Immunity Grant

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP)—The Senate opened debate today on a bill to permit congressional committees to grant witnesses immunity from prosecution and thus compel them to testify.

Sen. George (D., Ga.) criticized the measure as a danger to "the basic . . . personal right of a witness," but told the Senate he would not oppose it because "abuses of our Constitution have been so gross" by so many recent witnesses on Capitol Hill.

The bill, in present form, would allow any congressional committee to grant immunity by a two-thirds vote.

Landslide For British Socialists

Conservatives Slip In Council Vote

LONDON, May 8 (AP)—British Socialists scored landslide gains at the expense of both the Conservatives and all other rivals in returns tonight from local council elections in England and Wales.

Labor party headquarters immediately heralded the outcome as a slap at the "conservatism" of Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative national government.

The voting began Monday. It closed yesterday.

First returns in metropolitan London saw the Laborites picking up a net of 119 seats in the borough councils—taking away 110 from Conservatives, seven from Communists and two from Independents.

While the trend was to the left, nowhere did the Communists make any impression. The congested Stepney Borough in London's East End clothing and dockyard district, a Red stronghold in past elections, voted out all seven Communists in the old council.

The fight was clearly between the Socialists and Conservatives in the big London districts, with independents and others failing to win a single seat in the first 319 wards counted.

Conservative party headquarters dismissed the results as misleading and declared that, despite gains, the Socialists have won "500 less seats than the anti-Socialists."

"In many places," the statement said, "the Conservative poll is higher than last year and the Labor poll has fallen."

The campaign was waged mostly on local issues such as rates—the assessments for running the local governments—and housing under control of the councils.

Australia Vote Perils Hold of Conservatives

SYDNEY, Australia, Saturday, May 9 (AP)—Australian voters are choosing 32 new senators today in an election jeopardizing the Conservative government's tenuous hold on the upper house.

Political observers said leftist gains in recent state elections suggest the 60-member Senate will be split 30-30 between Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies' Liberal-Country party team and the opposition Labor party under Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, giving Labor veto power over legislation.

The election is to fill the seats of 30 senators retiring at the end of their six-year terms and the seats vacated by the deaths of two government senators. Twenty-eight senators are holdovers in the upper house, where the government has seen its four-seat margin of 1951 drop to two seats because of the deaths.

Census Reports 159 Million in U.S.

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP)—The Bureau of the Census estimated today the population of the United States had crossed the 159 million mark by April 1.

The bureau said its estimates indicated that the population of the nation, including armed forces overseas, stood at 159,068,000 on that date.

This represented an increase of 220,000 during March and was 2,697,000 more than the population April 1 last year.

A HORSE AND HIS MUSTACHE—OTTAWA, Ill., May 8—This horse isn't talking, but perhaps he senses that Ottawa is celebrating its centennial this year with males competing in a mustache-growing contest. Cloud, 7-year-old piebald, sports an eight-inch mustache. Holding animal is Sheila Aicher.

Librarian, Ex-U.S. Spy, Silent on Red Hookup

BOSTON, May 8—(AP)—A soft-spoken college librarian who was an American spy during World War II refused to tell the Senate internal security subcommittee today whether he is a Communist.

Paul V. Martineau, ex-espionage agent, was one of three persons who testified before the committee which abruptly ended its two-day investigation of alleged communism in Massachusetts schools, colleges and other educational institutions.

The committee, headed by Senator Jenner (Rep., Ind.), also heard from ex-FBI counterspy Herbert A. Philbrick and David Hawkins, an educator who once worked at the atomic bomb project at Los Alamos, N. M.

Martineau, junior librarian at Williams College, acknowledged under committee questioning that he was a member of the Office of Strategic Services during World War II.

As such, he said, he parachuted into Germany in civilian clothes and kept in radio communication with the French underground for three months.

2,000 UN Employees Under Loyalty Check

WASHINGTON, May 8—(U.P.)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations, assured House investigators today any disloyal Americans working for the UN will be exposed before next fall.

Lodge said the FBI and Civil Service Commission are checking the record of 2,000 Americans working either for the U. S. mission or for the UN itself, including the secretariat.

The UN secretary general is being notified "as fast as findings are made," Lodge said, adding that he is "very optimistic" that any one with doubtful loyalty will be fired.

"With luck this entire personnel problem should be cleaned up by September or October," he said.

The former Republican senator, who was defeated in last fall's election, testified before a House judiciary subcommittee which is winding up an investigation of Red infiltration of the UN.

George M. Ingram, now director of the State department's Office of International Administration, told the subcommittee a 1949 secret arrangement for tipping off the UN about suspected American Communists was "very loose."

Ingram, who acted as an "evaluator" of information about the employees, said he had only verbal orders on how the work should be done and that this was largely responsible for "slip-ups" and delays which sometimes lasted three years.

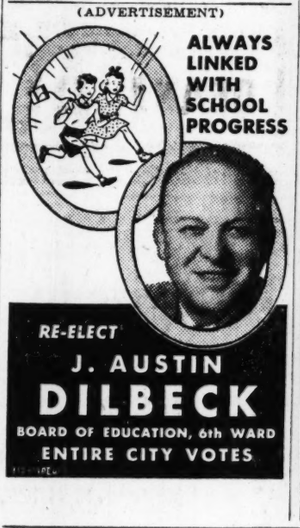

He also disclosed he was one of the "evaluators" whom Secretary of State Dean Acheson refused to identify for the subcommittee and a New York grand jury which conducted a similar investigation last fall.

William L. Franklin, special assistant to the State department's security director, said the department's own investigation of the UN personnel situation "still isn't complete."

Do You Want A "Part Time" Mayor?

Atlanta citizens were shocked to hear Charlie Brown say on television that "being Mayor is only a part-time job."

To those interested in the financial standing of the City of Atlanta; to working men and women with limited time to see the Mayor; to business men expecting a business-like administration of city affairs, such an attitude on the part of a candidate for mayor is irresponsible and shows a shocking ignorance of city administration.

GROWING WITH ATLANTA AND GEORGIA

We Salute
MONTAG BROTHERS, INC.

When the founder of Montag Bros., Inc., Mr. Sigmund Montag, immigrated to the United States in July, 1879, at the age of 14, he had only to pay a fee of $1.00 and make a declaration of citizenship. No further citizenship papers were necessary. Yet Sigmund Montag brought with him an immigrant's aspirations, confidence and simple faith that a good future could be earned in this country. That his dreams were realized through hard work, careful planning, and a keen business sense is readily seen today. On the property that has always been known as the "circus grounds" in Atlanta is being erected Montag Brothers, Inc. new building—the most modern, up-to-date stationery and tablet manufacturing plant in the world!

To enable his business to get a good start, Mr. Sigmund Montag worked as a clothier's traveling salesman, leaving the production of tablets to his brother, Adolph, whom he had brought over from Germany along with other brothers and sisters. So well did Adolph Montag and a half-dozen employees operate the new enterprise that Sigmund Montag was enabled to return to assume a position as active head of Montag Brothers.

Stressing styling and workmanship, the company increased from a beginning of 8 or 10 lines to more than 370 splendid lines of stationery. In 1936, Mr. Sigmund Montag turned over the reins of business to his son, Harold Montag. Under his direction the firm continued on its march to its current status as one of the leading papeterie and tablet plants in the world. Current president Bud Weiss was honored by the Paper Stationery and Tablet Manufacturers Association convention when they unanimously elected him vice-president of the national association.

We are fortunate, indeed, to live in a nation that welcomes young men such as Sigmund Montag to its shores. We are equally fortunate that men of vision and determination, such as Mr. Montag, find in this country opportunity to attain their hopes and aspirations. For through them the nation prospers!

Talmadge Hands Off in Docks Rift

Sweet, Williams Both at Office

Governor Talmadge will not intervene in the State Ports Authority's action in replacing Henry Sweet as director, political sources said Friday night.

Meanwhile, Georgia, which once had "two governors," had "two port directors" at Savannah. D. Leon Williams, named by the board to succeed Sweet, took office Friday morning. Sweet returned to Savannah from Atlanta and went to his old desk Friday afternoon.

The governor, ill with mumps, could not be reached for comment on the fracas. Sources close to the governor declared, however, that Talmadge will not interfere in the action of the Ports Authority.

The next move apparently would be for Sweet to make a court test of a contract he says he has with the authority, in force through Dec. 31, 1953.

Chairman William Bowdoin of Atlanta announced Sweet had resigned. He also announced the elevation of Williams from assistant director to director.

Sweet said he has not resigned and has no intention of quitting.

Unable to see the governor, Sweet sent a lengthy telegram asking Talmadge to intervene in the authority's action until the governor can personally review all records in the matter. He urged the governor to inspect the port and see "the results of my handiwork in co-operation with my organization."

Sweet said he had tried to make the port a monument to the Talmadge administration. He recalled that the governor frequently had publicly complimented him.

Once fired as director of the Alabama State Docks, Sweet was brought to Georgia at $12,000 a year to direct development of Georgia's ports.

M. M. Monroe of Waycross, authority member, said Sweet couldn't adapt himself to the new policy laid down by the authority and "preferred to resign and asked for settlement of his contract." Sweet said the proposals were made to him under duress and all had conditions which he could not and did not accept.

Bowdoin stated the authority has Sweet's resignation "in his own handwriting."

Hartsfield, Brown Meet At Rallies

One government, police politics, expressways, and the early primary were debated Friday night as mayoralty opponents Charlie Brown and Mayor Hartsfield appealed for votes at several community meetings.

The contenders in next Wednesday's primary met at a rally sponsored by the Candler Park Men's Civic Club at which J. H. Kennerly, attorney, presided. Candidates for aldermanic and school board positions also spoke.

Brown blamed small audiences at civic rallies on an early primary for which he said "Hartsfield and his friends are responsible."

Hartsfield charged: "When Brown was the boss of the Fulton County Commisison in 1946, he passed a resolution asking the Legislature to abolish the City of Atlanta, and he is still being supported by the one-government crowd."

"For the 16 years Hartsfield has been mayor, you have been behind the iron curtain," Brown told those attending a meeting in the DeKalb portion of Atlanta. "When you elect me your mayor, you will sit at the head table."

He charged that no expressway improvements have been made in the DeKalb portion of the city and promised to co-operate to get DeKalb County to enter the program for construction of an east-west facility.

The mayor charged that Brown is running a negative race "against everything, while I am running for the continued growth and progress of a great city." He hit Brown's proposal for a safety director saying the Police and Fire departments are doing a good job.

At one point when Brown assailed Hartsfield's 16 years as mayor and proposed limitation of the mayor to two four-year terms, Hartsfield said, "They are now calling him George Washington Brown."

Opera Season Plans Shelved Until Autumn

Proposals for an extended season of Metropolitan opera next year were discussed and "shelved" until next fall when the Atlanta Music Festival Association met Friday for its annual financial report.

"We are just cleaning up the 1953 season," said Jesse Draper, treasurer of the association, "and we will not discuss next season's plans for several months yet."

Reports by interested observers indicated, however, that the Met would be unable to enlarge on its visit here because a late Easter in 1954 would cause a late beginning of the annual tour. Dates for the 1954 opera were tentatively set for May 3, 4 and 5.

Efforts to expand the season were brought on by a complete sellout of all four of the 1953 performances.

In his report, Draper said that although the season was a sell-out, the association was skating on "thin ice" financially since it closed out with a net profit of only $927.

The association donated $1,000 to a special fund of $10,000 contributed by Atlanta music lovers.

A total of $103,842 was realized from the ticket sale. The Met received $82,494, the State of Georgia collected $2,928 in sales tax. Rent for the Fox Theater amounted to $6,125. Stage hands drew $6,125. Miscellaneous expenses, including clerical help, tickets and other items was $1,900. The Junior League received $3,000. Ticket subscribers contributed $8,785 to the guarantee fund. The guarantee fund now amounts to $44,892.

Jaycees To Elect Officers, Golf, Dine and Dance Today

Georgia Jaycees Saturday will elect either Carl Vann of Valdosta or George Mallory of Albany as their 1953 state president during the highlight event of their convention here.

Some 400 delegates from state Junior Chamber of Commerce clubs also will vote Saturday morning for three national directors. Late Friday only three candidates were running for the posts:

Edward B. Parker, Brunswick; Wendell Dykes, Cochran, and James Parker, Cedartown.

Carl Vann

George Mallory

Installation of officers Saturday night will precede a grand ball and banquet at the Biltmore Hotel.

The Jaycees Friday centered their three-day convention around a luncheon, a golf tournament and a dinner dance Friday night at the Druid Hills Golf Club.

Ed Forio, vice-president of Coca-Cola Co., told the delegates at the luncheon that "young men have been the power behind Georgia's progress since it was settled."

Well Replica Wins Emory Dooley Prize

A 30-foot high wooden replica of an oil well built by Delta Tau Delta fraternity won first place in lawn decorations Friday during the festive Dooley's frolics at Emory University.

Sigma Chi was second with a scene on "Modes of Transportation." In costuming, Alpha Tau Omega took top honors with an elegant reproduction of the first coronation in Westminster Abbey; Chi Phi placed second with an "Undersea Fantasy."

Phi Delta Theta was chosen first for effectiveness with "Innovations of Leonardo Da Vinci." Alpha Epsilon Pi took second place with "Showboat."

Judges were Edith Russell, Stephen R. May, Medora Fields Perkerson and Ben Shicke.

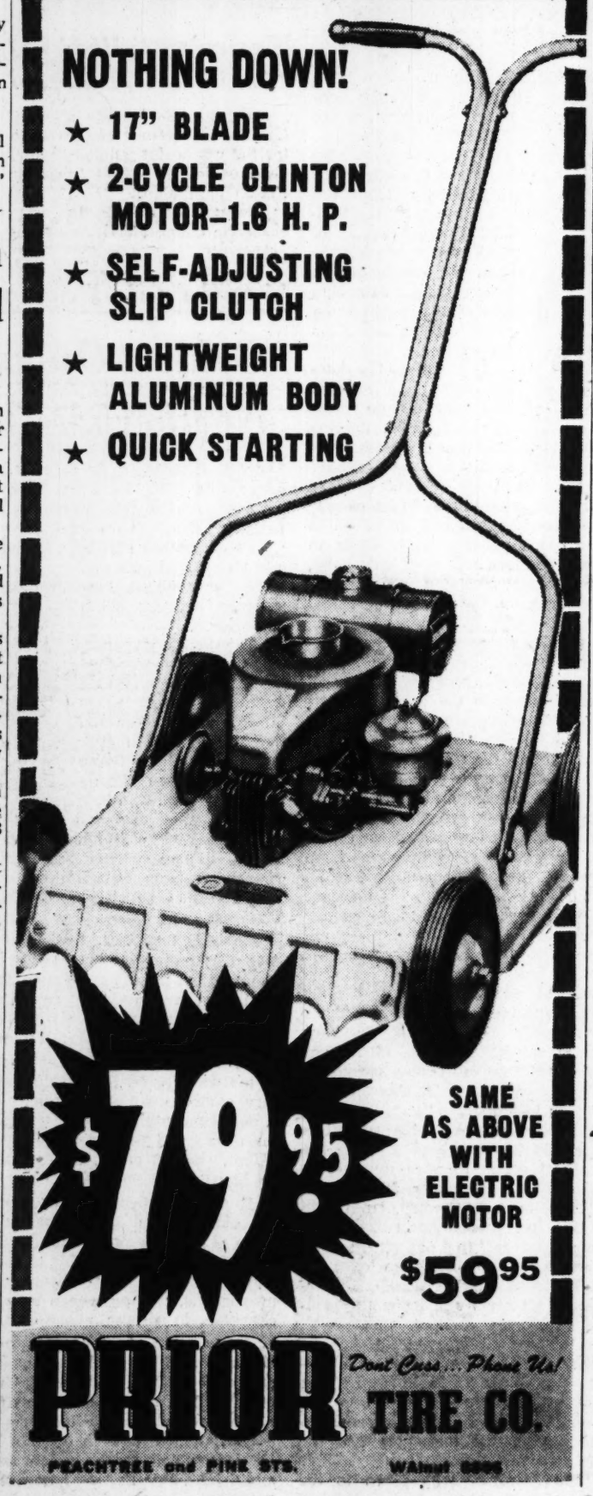

Meanwhile, Dooley, the Emory skeleton, took over campus activities Friday, dismissing classes, kissing co-eds and cavorting through dormitories.

A costume ball Friday night began a series of three dances at the Emory Field House, featuring Art Mooney and his orchestra.

Resources Policy Affects Us All

It is variously estimated that the offshore oil bill will turn resources over to the states, mostly to three states, valued at from $125,000,000,000 to $300,000,000,000, depending on the final boundaries decided upon.

When one looks into the figures more closely, he is even more astounded that representatives of 45 states could have given the bill a majority in the Senate—an action sure to be followed in the House.

The few valiant souls who opposed it may have slowed down the determined effort to relinquish the proposed give-away of all other reserves of resources, but the interests that have been hammering away to capture them all these years are gleeful over their best prospects in history. This complete reversal of conservation and development of resources policies poses great dangers for the future of this country.

Sen. Paul Douglas, the top economist of the Senate, maintained that development of the offshore oil lands should be used to benefit the people of the entire nation. He pinpointed each state's share, based on population. He broke it down further into what these resources would mean in education benefits for children between the ages of 5 and 17.

Georgia's share, based upon the fact that we have 2.66 per cent of the nation's children between those ages, would have amounted to a capital value of $3,325,000,000, using the $125,000,000,000 figure. If the entire $300,000,000,000 is the gauge, our share would have amounted to $7,980,000,000.

Since, of course, we would have received only royalties on the development—say 20 per cent—the amount that could have come to the state for educational purposes would have been $638,400,000 on the lower figure and $1,532,160,000 on the higher. And that's a lot of schooling.

At any rate, if the public cares, it should express an awareness of what is happening. If not, we can expect further successful raids on the nation's reserve resources.

John Paschall Served His State and Nation

The entire newspaper profession is saddened by the death of one of its finest practitioners, John Paschall, editor-emeritus of The Atlanta Journal. His contributions to newspapering, to the betterment of his state, his section and his nation set a shining example that served as an inspiration to the profession in general.

We on The Constitution had always respected his intelligence, his devotion to his work and his ability. He was a colleague always worthy of admiration for upholding the tremendous responsibilities of press freedom through fairness and integrity.

His career itself was a success story, an Atlanta story. He grew with Atlanta and Georgia and helped to guide their development.

We would like to offer our gratitude for a job well done and to commend John Paschall's career of unselfish service to his fellow man. His is a record to emulate as well as to appreciate.

Armed Force Slashes Will Affect 'Muscle'

We do not profess to understand the intricate details of spending in the defense buildup. For that matter, neither does Congress. It is obvious, however, that the proposed slashes in the funds requested by the Defense department for the coming year will affect armed forces "muscle."

There's no indication as yet that slashes are being made in that department wherein critics say the greatest savings can be made—waste, extravagance and duplication. The greatest cuts are aimed at the Air Force's new money budget—funds for the purchase of equipment for the 143-wing force settled upon as the minimum requirement to carry out defense at home and meet our commitments abroad.

Air Force planners had asked for a total of $16,700,000,000 to carry on operations and its buildup. The new figures pare the total to $11,688,000,000. More than $3,000,000,000 was cut from the request for new aircraft, spare engines, parts and auxiliary items.

The whole picture is not yet clear but it can be seen that the administration has decided there will be no war with Russia in the next few years. We can only hope that the decision does not result in the same situation that resulted when the Panmunjom peace talks began. Then we stretched out production and canceled orders on the expectation that the Korean War was about to end. It didn't.

Cuts in defense spending, then, are a calculated risk. With Russia's overwhelming land superiority, our ace in the hole has been superiority in atomic weapons and the means to deliver them to Russian targets. If that's what we are discarding, then may the Lord help us.

Secretary Forrestal gave his life in the fight to preserve and build America's defenses. He was succeeded by Louis Johnson, who gave the country and Congress what it wanted—economy. He also gave us the Korean War and a series of diplomatic defeats that helped bring on our present plight.

Is that the direction in which we are again traveling?

Doctor of Finance Gives Positive Diagnosis

William McChesney Martin, chairman of the board of governors of the Federal Reserve System, came to Atlanta Friday with a message of assurance.

The nation is healthy, financially speaking, he said. It can stay that way with wise management of fiscal affairs.

It's good to know that the patient is in good shape and that given the proper diet the condition will continue.

What we have most to fear is the economic hypochondriacs, prophets of gloom, who see nothing but symptoms of a return to the financial breakdown of the late 1920s. The quickest way to bring on a relapse is to let ourselves be talked into it.

Scandinavia Sets Pace In Tuberculosis War

The World Health Organization, meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, reports a 50 per cent drop throughout the world in deaths from tuberculosis since World War II.

The decline is most marked in countries which have shown the greatest energy toward the detection and early treatment of the disease.

On this point it should be noted that the drop reached 68 per cent in Sweden and 60 per cent in Norway, but only 47 per cent in the United States.

That means our work is cut out for us. We're making great gains in the battle against tuberculosis, but the end of the war is not in sight. And we've been letting the Scandinavian countries set the pace. Pride alone should spur our efforts.

Will Red Chess Game Last for the Duration?

Although we have discounted, and will continue to discount, the Soviet peace offensive as a phony, we find a ray of hope in the report of a Russian decision to send a chess team to the United States to compete in an international tournament.

We realize of course the Red penchant for playing the game with pawns. But knowing that a chess game can last for the duration, we wait with interest to see if the Kremlin actually intends to send a team to this country.

We recall the story of a famous international chess duel in which 21 days passed by without the visiting challenger making a move. Close examination of the man revealed that he was dead. The match was called off.

U. S. Reds Are Tops In Farce-Production

It has frequently happened in the course of history that sappers have tunneled underneath a fortress for the purpose of blowing it up. The modern touch that applies this technique to the ideological war is that the sappers appeal to the commander of the fortress to prevent anyone from interfering with their work.

So the Communist Party in the United States will go to the courts of the United States against a finding of the Subversive Activities Control Board that said party is required by law to register with the federal authorities and disclose the names of the sappers at work tunneling under the fortress, in this case the Constitution of the United States. Their point is that the commander of the fortress has no right to defend it from destruction; on the contrary, the very existence of the fortress guarantees anyone the right to demolish it without interference.

For ourselves, we should fear the Reds in this country more than we do if their farcical skits were less amusing than they are.

Did Filibuster Fulfill Its Aim?

WASHINGTON—Now that the filibuster against the tidelands oil bill has ended and the measure has been given final Senate passage, it is appropriate to consider what, if anything, was accomplished by the prolonged discussion.

The debate lasted more than a month and produced a new record for filibustering. Sen. Wayne Morse held the floor for 22 hours and 26 minutes, exceeding by more than four hours the previous record set by Sen. Robert M. LaFollette Sr. in 1908.

Opponents of the legislation, which gives the states title to valuable oil-bearing submerged lands off their coasts, insisted from the start that they were not engaging in a filibuster in the true sense of the word.

A filibuster, it was pointed out, is aimed at prevention of a bill from coming to a vote. Those who fought the bill disclaimed any intention of this kind. Instead, their purpose was to prolong the discussion to educate the public on the basic issues involved.

Nevertheless, it was a filibuster in all other respects and Morse, in his straightforward way, was honest enough to admit it. When he took the floor to deliver his record-breaking speech he frankly told the Senate he was participating in a talkathon.

What may have been accomplished by the prolonged opposition is difficult to say. One primary objective of opponents was to stop a trend which they see developing for the government to divest itself of other valuable holdings in public lands and public power.

In the same vein, Sen. George Malone (Rep., Nev.), has offered a bill to give to the states all mineral rights in any part of the public domain lying within their borders. A dozen Western states would benefit greatly by such a grant. Strange as it may seem, his bill was rejected in committee as an amendment to the tideland measure by only three votes.

Yet if we are giving to the coastal states the mineral rights to submerged lands, there would seem to be no valid reason why similar treatment should not be accorded the inland states with respect to the public domain.

Considering the estimates some geologists have made on the value of the oil-bearing lands, the surprising thing is that there was not more opposition to the bill. Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois said they had a potential value of some $250,000,000,000, or almost the amount of the public debt.

If a greater number of states were getting a cut of the pie, it would be easier to understand why the measure received such generous support.

The filibuster tends to make one thing certain. Those who led the fight against the give-away measure plan to make a live issue of the matter in the next national election.

Add 'Take Away' To 'Give Away'

WASHINGTON—Back in the early 1920s there was a periodic spectacle in the Senate with which we in the press gallery got very bored. Sen. Tom Heflin of Alabama—often known as "Tom-Tom"—would rise every few days and cry aloud to the heavens and an almost empty Senate about the "deflationary" policy instituted by the Federal Reserve Board of the Harding administration. He complained it was ruining farmers and was inspired by "the wolves of Wall Street."

But, for all his demagoguery, the senator had happened on something. For the depression that broke upon the nation's consciousness ultimately with the stock market collapse in 1929 was the cumulative effect of distress and depression that had prevailed in the farm areas since the early 1920s to which the government here paid little heed.

Or, as another Alabama senator described that era to the Senate just this week:

"Most people, in speaking of the depression, think about it as beginning in 1929. For the farmer, and the masses of the people, it began in the early 1920s as a result of the deliberate policy of high terms and high rates at the same time."

This present-day Alabama senator, John Sparkman, Democratic vice-presidential candidate last year, was not being the demagogue or a Jeremiah prophesying immediate doom. He was bespeaking very earnestly the crescendo of complaints from farmers, war veterans, labor unions, small businessmen and others, about the increase in interest rates which has made money "tight," to use a phrase familiar to another generation that cropped up in the Senate debate this week.

This general increase in interest rates has followed, and by design, the bellwether action recently by Secretary of Treasury Humphrey in raising from 2½ to 2¾ per cent the interest rate on a new billion-dollar, long-term bond issue. It was intended as a check on inflation.

Like a pebble thrown in the pool, this Treasury action has ramified through the whole financial realm to push up interest rates generally—on Veterans Administration mortgage loans for homes, from 4 to 4½ per cent; on price-support loans for farmers on 1953 crops, to 4 per cent, and so on, with commensurate boosts on loans for financing home-building generally, installment sales of all sorts and loans for business from banks.

Calling this the Eisenhower administration's "take-away" program, Senator Sparkman said "those who will gain most under these constantly rising rates are those who clip the coupons and own the mortgages. The home buyers, the taxpayers and the consumers will foot the bill."

Little publicity has been given to the story the Alabama senator told.

Says Hartsfield Is a 'Good Mayor' And to Change 'Would Be Foolish'

Atlanta—Why is the opponent of Mayor Hartsfield so anxious to become mayor of Atlanta? Everyone knows that the job of being mayor pays a good salary but so do private jobs such as owning a mop factory. I can see plenty of mistakes that William B. Hartsfield has made but we all make them. He has made Atlatna what it is today. He is a good mayor and is known all over the country as being such.

To make such a change now would be foolish. It wouldn't be if he had not done the job. But he has. East Atlantans and lots of DeKalb Atlantans are for him.

Not Necessary To Go North To Complete an Education

Atlanta—Thank you for giving me a good laugh when I read Ralph McGill's account of that Southern funeral. I can foresee an editor writing the same type of story 75 years from now in reference to the South's failure to use its human resources in 1952.

There are persons in the South today who believe they must send the South's Negro sons and daughters to schools in the North to earn their M. A.'s, M. D.'s, Ph. D.'s and so on, when there are so many schools right here in the South that are good enough to give them these finishing touches. MRS. G. JASON PERRY.

Atlanta—On behalf of the Women's Chamber of Commerce, I wish to thank you for the wonderful publicity your newspaper gave us in our recent Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up campaign.

Through the combined efforts of the various civic clubs, aided greatly by the press as a medium of informing the public of our aims and objectives, we feel Atlanta is constantly becoming a cleaner and more beautiful city in which to live.

Again let me express sincere appreciation for your part in making this campaign a success and for your splendid co-operation always. GERTRUDE STANFORD, President, Women's Chamber of Commerce.

Russell, George 'Yes' Votes On Tidelands Oil Draw Fire

Atlanta—It has been known for years that "our" Senator George was simply a corporation man, and I was not surprised at his voting "yes" on the tidelands oil "steal." But we had a higher opinion of Senator Russell until his "yes" on the same issue. Considered Russell prime presidential timber but he has degenerated into the "scrap bundle" pile now.

The sooner Georgia gets rid of these two the better off the state will be, for we now have no true representatives in the Senate.

This oil thing is the property of the entire United States. The "tideland states" would have benefited enormously under plans offered by several amendments, which were voted down by the "oily senators." Our only recourse is (1) veto by the President, (2) action by the Supreme Court, which I do not believe to have been "oiled up."

Golden Opportunities in Dixie Lure Northerners to Heed 'Go South' Cry

NEW ORLEANS—It is a grand coincidence that 1953, 150th anniversary of the greatest real estate bargain in history, finds the New South positively throbbing with a vigor that startles the Southern people themselves and surely portends a new balance between South and North.

The South was persecuted by the so-called radicals of Northern politics in the years after the Civil War and no Marshall Plan ever was offered the South at the expense of Northern taxpayers. The best Southern men, who had fought with enormous bravery well knowing the personal danger to their women and children, were suspended from citizenship even in their own states by a hot-eyed, hateful Northern Congress.

Robbed, exploited, lied about and subjected to extortion and ravishment at the hands of bewildered freedmen instigated by Northern brigands, the South never surrendered in spirit, although it lived largely on cotton and peanuts until World War I.

Then the climate and expanses appealed to the warmakers in Washington and military camps were spotted here and there. A new generation of Southern men went to the colors and the old score was, to some extent, washed away, as the saying went, in blood.

It seems appropriate to review briefly the old situation in approaching an estimate of the new one. The South certainly is aroused now and, barring atomic war with Russia or some other disaster of mighty proportions, will assume a new status and character in national economy and politics.

As to political change it was plain the South wanted a semi-Republican but not an entire Republican and for that reason supported Eisenhower. As of today, however, Eisenhower already is too Democratic and not Republican enough for this New South. He is too soft to the union rackets, possibly because he is ignorant of union practices.

The port of New Orleans and the great building activity are suffering from the same predatory unionism which disgraced the city of New York. The longshoremen's union here is the same one that vitiated New York. The five-member board of commissioners of the port are fed up with the condescension of Joe Ryan, who lords it over this ambitious world port from a racket headquarters in New York.

The electricians, operating engineers, glaziers and other disreputable building trades of the AFL are preying on the new building activity, running up costs and causing delays in completion.

Inasmuch as Eisenhower went to the AFL for his Secretary of Labor and chose the president of a union infamous for clever extortions in legal guise, Ike has not retained all the approval which these people felt when they voted for him.

It is not possible to deal with these factors in statistical terms, but this is a rough outline of some important facts:

During World War I and the rise of the motor industry with its market for unskilled labor, many rural Southern Negroes migrated to Northern factory cities. They have no nostalgic memories nor could they be persuaded to come back. There is no effort to woo them back.

On the other hand, many Northern white workers, including executives and builders, have come South in a surge comparable to that of the Eastern youth who heeded Horace Greeley's exhortation: "Go West."

Mississippi is raising less cotton and producing dairy stuff and beef from the steers and culls. Louisiana's culls. Louisiana is now a cattle state. Many textile plants arose in the Carolinas after the first war. Now many more have sprung up and in Georgia, too, in the vigorous coming-awake of an area. The Labor Relations Board has been trying to stem this irresistible movement from tired Yankee towns to factories in the South where farmers can part-time it in the mills.

The board has ordered some Eastern owners to move their workers, and their families and their household goods to Southern sites, all paid. We have yet to learn whether this mere order of a low-level bureaucrat will stick.

Every Person Needs a Minister

There was so much interest in Life magazine's selection of America's 12 outstanding ministers that I have decided to give my own list of 12 outstanding ministers in Atlanta.

My first thought was to include men of all faiths and also ministers serving in every capacity, but I had such difficulty in selecting just 12 that I decided first to give my list of Protestant ministers who are serving as pastors of a local church.

In alphabetical order, my list would include John R. Brokhoff, Lutheran Church of the Redeemer; Robert W. Burns, Peachtree Christian; Alfred Hardman, Cathedral of St. Philip; Pierce Harris, First Methodist; Paul S. James, Baptist Tabernacle; Nat G. Long, Peachtree Road Methodist; Harrison McMains, First Christian; Louie D. Newton, Druid Hills Baptist; Stuart R. Oglesby, Central Presbyterian; Rembert Sisson, Druid Hills Methodist; Monroe Swilley, Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist; Herman L. Turner, Covenant Presbyterian.

All would agree with me that each of those 12 would belong on such a list. Also, most people in the city would have the name of other pastors to add? In fact, I was tempted to make mine a list of 15 because I had three more men I would liked to have included. All are outstanding; all are rendering conspicuous service.

But then I ask you, who is the most important minister in the city? For you, it may be not one of these men at all. Certainly, the most important pastor is your own. The one you hear preach regularly, who tells you about the word of God and inspires you to live the good life.

The one you call when you need help, who buries your loved ones, who marries your children, who is concerned about your life. The one who is working night and day to make your own church what it ought to be. Above all, the pastor who is calling your name in his prayers and asking the Lord's blessing particularly upon you.

There are about 400 pastors in Atlanta. All are different and naturally all do not appeal to every person. All have some faults and all have many strong points. But there is a minister in the city for every person, if that person wishes one.

To me, the pathetic thing is there are many people who do not have a pastor and every person needs one. Henry Drummond once said of the ministers, "We come not to save your souls but to save your lives. We want you to be Christians, not because you might die tonight but because you are going to live tomorrow."

The business of the pastor is to help each person he can to live a fuller and happier life. Who is the most important pastor in your life? If you do not have one now, look around and find one and it will be one of the most rewarding experiences of your life.

Mother Would Cut The Pie Different

Strictly for Mother's Day: The teacher asked a boy this question about fractions: "Suppose your mother baked a pie and there were seven of you—your parents and five children. What part of the pie would you get?"

"A sixth," the boy answered.

"But there are seven of you," insisted the teacher. "Don't you know your fractions?"

"Yes," replied the boy, "I know about fractions, but I know about mothers, too. Mother would say she didn't want any pie."

SPEAKING OF MOTHER'S DAY, a note from "Billy" Power, the Shut-in Sunshine Man, says that Frank E. Hering of South Bend, Ind., was the first to suggest an organized program to honor mothers. Hering made the proposal at an Eagles convention in Indianapolis, Feb. 7, 1904. Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia took up the idea and started a movement which the next year led her city to proclaim the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day. The occasion became official nationally in 1914 with a proclamation by President Woodrow Wilson.

Since then there's been many a fine sermon preached on the thought that the mere act of bearing a child does not make a woman a "mother." Or as John Dennis said in The Elberton Star, "The time to begin the formation of character in a child is the day its mother is born."

Orange Bowl May Tie Up With 'Rebel' Organization

GREENSBORO, N. C., May 8—(AP)—Seven major Southern colleges and universities broke away from the sprawling 17-member Southern Conference Friday to organize a new, smoother-working athletic conference.

The momentous action marked the birth of a brand-new and ambitious intercollegiate sports conference, composed of schools wtih "comparable" big-time athletic programs.

Final approval by the boards of trustees of the withdrawing schools was considered only a formality and a foregone conclusion.

Members of the new group are Duke, North Carolina State, Wake Forest, South Carolina, Clemson and Maryland. The first separate meeting of the new group was scheduled for June 14 in Raleigh, N. C.

It was believed that either the University of Virginia or West Virginia would be invited to join the new circuit, making it an enight-member conference.

The new group will adopt a new name.

The 10 remaining schools will be known as the Southern Conference. It will retain the conference's assets, roughly $150,000, and the conference commissioner, Wallace Wade. Wade's contract Southern Conference commissioner was extended for one year Friday—to Jan. 1, 1956.

The long-heralded split became official at the annual spring meeting of the conferece here. After a day-long meeting, spokesmen for both groups issued the following statement:

"Seven members of the Southern Conference have signified their intention to withdraw from the Southern Conference. These seven propose to form a new conference.

"All spring sports and tournaments will be conducted as scheduled under the rules and regulations of the Southern Conference.

"The formation of the new conference, depending on proper clearance, cannot be completed until a later date.

"The Southern Conference commissioner's office and booking office will serve the seven schools until Jan. 1, 1955.

"The Southern Conference under this agreement retains all assets and accepts all liabilities of the conference."

Representatives of the withdrawing schools were asked to leave the conference meeting at 10:30 a. m. They were not readmitted until 6:30 p. m.

Newsmen were excluded from the all-day meeting.

A spokesman for the withdrawing schools said the split "is for the benefit of all concerned." He said the two conferences will include members with "comparable" sports programs.

For purposes of standing and determining championships in sports, the split will be effective next Sept. 1, or with the start of the 1953 football schedule. However, the full effects of the break probably will not be felt until 1955 because most schools have completed their 1953 and most of the 1954 schedules.

It was reported reliably that the Orange Bowl committee is seeking a formal tie-up with the new conference of big schools when and if it completed. Under the reported plan, the circuit's football champion automatically would be host in the annual New Year's Day classic at Miami.

A proposal by Maryland to rescind a flat ban on bowl games adopted by the conference in 1951 was on the agenda for the meeting here. But because of the action to split the conference, it was doubtful whether it would be taken up.

Crax, Phillips Fall to Chicks

Strahs Wins 7-0 Five-Hitter; Phillips Wild, Brittin Walloped

By JESSE OUTLAR
Constitution Sports Writer

MEMPHIS, May 8—Dick Strahs, a 25-year-old right-handed recruit from Colorado Springs, stuck a five-hit mute on Atlanta Cracker bats Friday night and Memphis' high-flying Chicks triumphed 7-0 before 3,078 satisfied customers at Russwood Park.

It was the ninth success in 11 outings for Luke Appling's sizzling outfit, and the fifth loss in six games for Atlanta.

Consequently, the Chicks are only one length out of first place, and the Crackers are the same distance from the cellar.

Taylor Phillips, who failed to finish for the first time in four starts, was tagged with his first setback, while Strahs registered his third win.

However, Phillips still has the satisfaction of not having been kayoed. In fact, the Chicks had lifted only one ball out of the infield, and hadn't had a hit when Phillips left in the fourth.

Three Cracker errors in a weird first round gave the Chicks one marker, and five passes by Phillips forced in two more in the fourth after two were out.

Jack Brittin followed Phillips and added a hitless stanza, so Memphis rolled into the sixth with a 3-0 lead accomplished without benefit of a safety.

They quickly pummeled Brittin for five singles and two runs in the sixth, however, and added two more insurance scores off Monk Raines in the seventh.

Strahs encountered only two troublesome innings. Atlanta had two runners on in the second, two more in the ninth, otherwise no one passed first.

The right-hander fanned eight and walked only two as he posted his first shutout of the campaign.

Thus, in the past two games, the Crackers have scored only one run, a charity marker which Mobile's Wally Hood walked in last Wednesday.

The kind of support the Crackers gave Phillips in the first inning was enough to rattle any hurler.

Errors by Vern Petty, Manager Gene Mauch and Jack Parks paved Pete Pavlick's path around the scoring course.

However, the crafty lefty settled down until the fourth, when

Austin Liner Stalls Georgia Flag Bid

Scores Brannon in 12th For 4-3 Victory at Tech

By EDWIN POPE

Smut-smeared Mike Austin, as dangerous as he looked, blazed a line-drive single off weary Jack Roberts' fingertips in the 12th inning Friday and sent Chuck Brannon darting home with a run that gave Georgia Tech a 4-3 victory over Georgia.

The bouncing blow stalled Georgia's bid for the Southeastern Conference eastern division baseball championship and spelled dramatic climax to a superb pitching match between Roberts and Tech's Chappell Rhino.

It was the game of the year at Rose Bowl Field—until Saturday. Then, at 3 o'clock, the pressure-burdened Bulldogs make their ultimate grab for the sectional crown and the right to meet western winner Mississippi State for the SEC title. Another loss will eliminate Georgia (11-4) and allow Florida (12-5) to back into the playoffs.

Brannon, bespectacled junior shortstop who has played the season and a spring football practice with a lame shoulder, led Friday's 12th with a walk. Rhino sacrificed Brannon to second with a bunt that Roberts played to Johnny Douglas at first base. But Brannon saw third base was unmanned and charged on to the bag.

Thrice before, in the first, second and fifth innings, Roberts had pitched out of deep holes. He went about escaping this one with intentional walks to Bobby McCauley and Bill Cohen, and the strategy looked sound when Clyde Young struck out.

But Austin, grimy-faced with soot to kill the sun's reflections, pasted a fast ball back toward the mound and Roberts'

RICH A 10-9 VICTIM

Crawford Wins Women's Title

By ELLWOOD MOYER
Special to The Constitution

COLUMBUS, May 8—The largest gallery of the five-day tourney turned out Friday to see Mary Crawford annex the 24th annual Georgia State Womens golf championship as the 24-year-old Americus beauty turned back Frances Rich of Bainbridge by a 10-9 score to make her conquest of the field of 139 golfers complete.

Crawford closed the match out on the 27th, at which time the new Georgia champ was nine over par for the day's play.

The Americus lass completely dominated the play in the tourney after the qualifying round. Martha Daniel of Rome fired an 80 to take medal honors but after that it was Crawford all the way.

In the first round she stopped the Fort Benning champ, Mrs. E. J. Curtis, 8-7 and in doing so set a new course record in women's play, 72.

In the quarter-finals Carol Thomas of Atlanta played her to a 5-3 score, her lowest score of the tourney.

In the semi-finals Crawford ousted Atlanta's Mrs. Grady McDonald, 6-4.

Thus for the first time since she lost in finals to Eileen Stulb in Rome in 1951, Crawford has suddenly come into her own again.

Crawford picked up the first, fourth, seventh and eight holes to lead by four at the end of nine. On the backside she added the 11th, 13th and 16th to take a seven hole lead at the end of morning play.

It then took her only nine holes in afternoon play to gain her first state title.

The scoring in the finals:

Crawford	455	354	346—39
Rich	555	554	456—44
Par	454	344	345—36
Crawford	545	445	355—40

MACON, May 8—The dream finals predicted for the 1953 Georgia State Amateur Golf championship between Macon's Arnold Blum and Atlanta's sharpshooting Harvie Ward was still a Sunday possibility, but for a while Friday afternoon at Idle Hour Country Club it was doubtful whether or not Ward would survive to the quarter-finals.

The guy who was about to upset the applecart was Georgia golf team captain Nolen Richardson Jr., of Athens. Young Nolie forced Ward to go the entire route before the current British Amateur champion procketed a hard-earned one-up victory. Ward come to the par three 18th one-up. Here he missed the green, but chipped up like a champ and got down in three for the half and victory. Richardson was on but his long birdie attempt missed to the left by a whisker. Ward was even par 35-35—70, while the Bulldog ace went 36-35—71.

Blum, who has won the last three state crowns and four in all, won comfortably from Atlanta's Lester Kelly, another Georgia team man, three and two.

Arnold started by knocking down trees on No. 1 and wound up by almost knocking the pin out on the par three 18th. At one he pulled his drive, hit a tree with his second, got deep in the woods on his next shot and finally conceded the hole to Kelly. The Macon stylist won the next two holes and never trailed thereafter. On 18 he missed a hole-in-one by six inches. The ball stopping on line in front of the cup. Of course, the match had ended previously on 16. Blum posted a 32 on this nine.

Arnold's younger brother, Larry, was not so fortunate, losing 4 and 2 to former Georgia Tech end, Pete Ferris of Griffin. Larry had created quite a sensation in Thursday's opening round by ousting Valdosta's famous Dyna-

Goodman's Homer Edges Yankees, 2-1

Red Sox Capture First From Champs in 13

BOSTON, May 8—(AP)—Billy Goodman's 11th-inning homer gave the Boston Red Sox a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees Friday night.

It was the Red Sox' first win in 13 tries against the world champions, who won the three previous 1953 clashes in New York.

The first Red Sox run, against big Johnny Sain in the second inning, was Dick Gernert's fifth homer of the season, a mighty drive over the left field fence.

Hec (Skinny) Brown gave the Yankees seven hits but kept them well scattered. The lone New York tally came in the top of the second, which Mickey Mantle opened by drawing a base on balls. With one out, Gil McDougald lashed down the third base line and was credited with a single when the ball took a freakish bounce and struck George Kell on the face.

Billy Martin unlimbered a two-out single to dirve in Mantle. The former then was forced by Sain, who had beaten the Red Sox, 6-3, in his first 1953 start against them, thanks to a Mantle three-run homer in the ninth inning.

ST. LOUIS, May 8 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians climaxed an uphill fight tonight with a four-run ninth-inning rally, including Dale Mitchell's second homer of the season, to hand the St. Louis Browns a 7-4 defeat. Twice earlier the Indians tied the count only to have the Browns pull back into the lead.

Fellow Needs Some Guided Missles To Salt the Fighting Tarpon Away

PACKWOODS, Fla.—Here's a switcheroo, from an outdoor writer who's nursing thumb blisters and a depleted tackle box—a first-hand account of a run-in with tarpon that ends up like most man-tarpon contests do, with homo sapiens definitely on the sap end.

Last year my wife Bett and I went after tarpon with a good friend and a former Georgian, Seth Clinton of New Smyrna. We hung into eight and boated three of them on light service-type salt-water reels and six-foot, 10-ounce rods. All in the Indian River near here.

Allen

With little hope that the cool weather would have encouraged the silversides to come inside in May this far north on the East coast, we went after them again.

And, they were here, rolling and striking at imaginary food in the six-foot-deep mangrove flats in the river. But they spurned our trolled lures and the plugs we cast at their wakes.

In desperation we cast net for live mullet finally and that's when we got the coup de grace from the leaping, rolling schools of pencil-finned monsters.

They struck, all right, but they immediately danced on their tails and blew mullet, line and all right in our faces—like spitting cats but with more ferocity than any kitty.

We used up the mullet after getting 11 tarpon strikes and leaps, and never actually hooking one. Once, a huge one burst the surface with Seth's mullet in his mouth six feet from the skiff. He had doubled back against the tide and Seth had felt him—but too late.

With no bait, we lamented the invention of tarpon and got out of that place.

With casting rods we got a good catch of speckled trout but the afternoon was broken up when yours truly got a "baby" (15-20-pound) tarpon on that never stopped after he took the lure. He leaped twice, and I was frozen.

"Now," Seth said, "you've got a chance to brag on that blankety-blank willow twig you fish with, if you land that one—"

Suffice it to say that the "baby" took 100 yards of 15-pound test line which snapped with a bang at the reel, flinging cork arbor pieces to the deck—and skipped two more times, plainly showing that the stuff dangling from his lantern-jaw bothered him but faintly.

Betts was all consolation, but Seth accused me of "showing off" or trying to catch tarpon while he and Betts filed the boat with eating fish.

After the kidding, I decided that dame fortune was especially kind to let me get two on the light salt rig last year. I believe it would be fairer to go after the maddening things with guided missiles.

That's actually why they have the guided missle base at Cocoa on this Indian River—I suspect. That's the only way a human has an even break with old silver king.

Snead Collars Hogan In Greenbrier Open

Bantam Falls One Back at 68— 'Just Not Playing Worth a Darn'

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., May 8—(AP)—Sam Snead shot his second straight 67 Friday to lead Ben Hogan by one stroke at the halfway stage of the 72-hole Greenbrier Open.

Snead and Hogan went off even along with Pete Cooper on the second round played in windy and drizzling weather. The three had been a stroke behind Shelley Mayfield of Cedarhurst, L. I., the first round leader with a 66.

Mayfield blew high, taking a six-over-par 76 to plummet to a 10th-place tie.

Cooper, a tourney veteran from White Plains, N. Y., and Lou Barbaro of Deal, N. J., tied for third, two strokes behind Snead.

Cooper added a 69 to his opening 67 while Barbaro accomplished exactly the reverse round. The 63-year-old Barbaro, an infrequent tourney player in recent years, pulled the most sensational shot of the tourney for an eagle two on the 380-yard second hole.

Both Snead and Hogan griped about their putting despite their sub-par rounds. Snead won the past two Greenbriers 16 and 17 strokes ahead of par. Hogan was 21 better when he won in 1950.

Snead started off like a house afire, taking birdies on the first two holes. He bogeyed the next, but then scored two more consecutive birdies and thought at that time "I was going to get a 63 or 64."

Stewart Leader In Ardmore Golf

ARDMORE, Okla., May 8—(AP)—Earl Stewart Jr. of Dallas, gunning for a top prize of $6,900, kept his game at a subpar level again Friday to take a one-stroke lead in the $26,300 Ardmore Open golf tournament.

The 32-year-old Texan shot a 2-under-par 68 to post a 135 for the 36 holes. This was a stroke better than Ed (Porky) Oliver, Palm Springs, Calif., who came in earlier with a 69 for a 136.

Earlier, the prize money for this oil rich Southern Oklahoma tournament was increased $5,000 for a total purse of $26,300. An additional $500 was added to each of the first 10 places. Tenth prize is now worth $940, while the runnerup will get $3,000.

West Fulton's Gene Conn managed a two-run first-inning homer off North Fulton pitcher Buddy Harrell Friday afternoon, but after that the Bulldog ace was untouchable as North Fulton pulled it out, 4-2.

Harrell was touched for only four hits in his third win against no losses.

Troglin and Chambers; Harrell and Wilnah, and former state southern and all-American titlist George Hamer of Columbus, were other favorites to come through with colors flying high. Manley stood off Albany's Frank Hedrick, 2 and 1, while Hamer was too experienced for Athens High's Jack Lumpkin, winning 6 and 4.

In the other two matches, Bob Sulzer and Charley Black, a pair of veteran stars from Atlanta, bowed out. Black dropped a 4-and-3 decision to ex-Georgia golf team leader Griffin Moody Jr., of Athens, while Sulzer lost out after a stirring battle to Maconite Brown McDonald, 2 and 1.

In Saturday morning's quarterfinals, here is the way they will square off: Blum vs. Ferris; Manley vs. McDonald; Kirby vs. Hamer and Ward vs. Moody.

The four survivors will get back into action in the afternoon to decide who will battle in Sunday's 36-hole championship.

Rocky-Joe Ref To Judge Fouls; Graham-Basilio Match Delayed

CHICAGO, May 8—(AP)—The referee will be the sole judge of any fouls in the bout between heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and Jersey Joe Walcott next Friday night.

So ruled the Illinois State Athletic Commission Friday.

Walcott's manager, Felix Bocchicchio, contended that Marciano's butting cost Walcott the title in his 13th-round knockout at Philadelphia last September.

The referee will not be named until the night of the fight.

Meanwhile, doctors said Marciano's celebrated nose, and the rest of his body, were in A-1 shape. Likewise Walcott. The medicos did not say whether The Rock's nose would bleed again if Walcott belted it good.

NEW YORK—Ramon Fuentes, ex-Marine from Los Angeles, banged away at Al Wilson's body for 10 rounds and racked his 14th straight victory. Wilson is an Englewood, N. J., welterweight. The fight was televised nationally.

CLEVELAND—Matchmaker Larry Atkins says he has offered welterweight champion Kid Gavilan $75,000 and part of the TV receipts to fight Johnny Bratton here in July.

SYRACUSE—Billy Graham is ill and his May 22 fight with Carmen Basilio here has been postponed under June 6. Graham, No. 1 welterweight contender, was stricken with a virus infection at his training camp at Greenwood Lake.

BOSTON—French middleweight Pierre Langlois is expected to add Joe Rindone to his list of boxing victims when they clash Saturday night in a 10-round feature at Boston Garden. The fight will be telecast (ABC) at 8 p. m. (EST).

Dick Strahs Shuts Out Crax for Chicks, 7-0

he lost sight of the plate. Then the five walks, four after two outs, proved his undoing.

Sammy Meeks hiked his RBI total to 27 with a two-run single off Brittin in the sixth, and Strahs and Del Johnson singled home Chick scores in the seventh.

The Crackers now have dropped 11 of 13 games away from Ponce de Leon.

Vern Petty hit into his eighth double-play of the year in the seventh, the 41st by the Crackers.

Mauch will send Art Fowler (3-1) against the Chicks Saturday night. Hooks Iott (1-2) is Appling's Chick choice.

CRACKER DIARY: Right-hander Monk Raines, who posted an 0-1 record in eight innings of relief duty with the Crackers, will be lopped off the roster Saturday night. Removal of Raines will enable the club to comply with the 19 player limit required after the first 30 days. Raines probably will be farmed to Jacksonville. . . . Junior Wooten was taxed $25 by Southern Association President Charlie Hurth for squabble with Umpire Andy Mitchell in the second game at Mobile Wednesday night. Pitchers Bill Denney and Bob Giggie, ejected from the same game, drew $5 fines. . . . Fred Waters had to retire to the clubhouse for first-aid treatment after being struck on the leg by a Dick Sinovic line drive in batting practice. . . . Even though his Memphis Chicks are perched in second place, Atlantan Luke Appling is moaning that he needs help. With nine ex-major leaguers dotting the roster, the Chicks figure to be in the flag fight all the way. . . . They rise to say around the majors that Paul Lehner would be a whale of an outfielder if he adhered to training rules. They say in Memphis that Lehner has reformed, but he's hitting only .215 and fighting to hang on in double A.

Goodloe, Yarborough Tie Mid-South Marks

Ellis Goodloe of Baylor and William Yarbrough of St. Andrews tied two mid-South records of over 10 years' standing Friday at Emory when Goodloe ran the 100-yard dash in 9.9 and Yarbrough topped the high hurdles in 16 seconds flat.

Goodloe has shown here once before this season—in a triangular meet with GMA and Richmond—and that time out stepped the hundred in 9.7, but the mark was not official. He also had the best qualifying time in the 220-yard dash.

Yarbrough's record-tying effort was also one of two personal triumphs for him in the qualifying, running the low hurdles in the day's best time.

Bill Cromwell, of Rome's Darlington School, had the best distances in two field events, the javelin and shot.

Finals will be run at 12 noon in all events Saturday at the Emory track.

Mrs. King Wins Title 'Heads-Up'

Mrs. Clyde King won the Class A championship on a toss of the coin Friday as the Georgia State Trapshoot opened a three-day run.

Mrs. King, Ed Garlington and Henry Alford Jr. tied with 193x200 on the first go-round, and Alford dropped out of the shootoff after 50 targets. Mrs. King and Garlington fired 99x100 and darkness stopped activities there. Garlinglost the coin-toss.

Miamian Carl Flock, former world speedboat-racing king and brother of the stock-car-racing Flocks, was high in Class B with 195x200. F. L. Bailey, of Marion, Ala., won Class C with 191x200.

Paul Lewis was high pro on 191x200. The Laurie Grant Special Sliding Handicap went to T. W. Cecil, of Spartanburg, 45x50. Runnersup were T. K. Lee of Birmingham, Cooper Cecil of Spartanburg and Garlington, 46x50.

Mrs. King opens her singles title defense Saturday morning at Capitol Gun Club.

Salter Puts O'Keefe In AA Track Lead

Irish Ace Racks 12 Points In Athens Field Events

By CHARLIE ROBERTS
Constitution Sports Writer

ATHENS, May 8—Crack Atlanta and Columbus aces completely dominated the show, and O'Keefe High's big Bill Salter put on a one-man gang act as six events were completed in the first day's running of the 1953 state Class AA high school track meet on University of Georgia track here Friday.

The 6-5, 195-pound leader of Coach Gene Sackett's weight corps rolled up a personal total of 12 points and put O'Keefe into the lead with a 14-point total by winning first places in the shot-put and high jump and a third in the discus.

Salter dumped the shot 47-11½ on his final try in beating out Moultrie's Gayle Manley. He high-jumped 5-10⅝, and slung the discus 136 feet, 4 inches.

Bass High's big Bill Keels, Atlanta City League record holder, set the only new state AA record of the day with a discus fling of 153' feet, 6¾ inches.

Jordan and Columbus musclemen amassed 11 and 10 points and led the way as Region One took a 30½ to 28-point lead over Region Three (Atlanta's City League).

Jordan seemed in the best shape to unseat Lanier's defending champions after the running of Saturday events, the start of which has been moved up to 2 p. m. Jordan's sensational James Ferrell won his 100-yard dash heat in a torrid 9.9, barely shy of the record of 9.85 set by Atlanta Boys High Howard Stillwell in 1941.

Two other sensational performances were turned in by John Christofferson and Ed Speer, Columbus teammates. Christofferson broad-jumped 22 feet, ½ inch.

Browns' Don Tedder captured first place in his 440 heat with a 52.4 run, but his expected duel with Richmond Academy's Prentice Peabody is not to be. Peabody pulled a leg muscle in the 100 and was scratched from the 440.

Tommy Beutell of Northside, Rudy Boyd of Columbus, John Cook of O'Keefe and Billups Johnson seem to be the top hurdlers here. Much of O'Keefe's chances for the title rest with Cook and half-miler Lawrence Graves. Northside must score heavily with Simerville and Beutell if they are to be a strong title threat.

Grady's Henry Drubs Musketeer in AA

Special to The Constitution

ATHENS, May 8—Atlanta Grady High's Crawford Henry surged on toward a second straight State Class AA high school singles tennis championship here Friday with a 6-1, 6-2 drubbing of Richmond Academy's Pete Whaley on the University of Georgia Courts.

But, Columbus High's defending champions in the annual GIAA tournament, Huel White and Phillip Adams, fell by the wayside in the first round of play to the Richmond tandem of Dudley Baird and Sam Fleming, 6-4, 6-3, in a nip-and-tucker.

Charles Cook and Rom White, Northside's pair that was downed by Adams and White in last year's doubles finals, bumped GMA's Dean Van Landingham and Henry Rowland, 6-1, 6-0, and will meet Baird and Fleming Saturday for the title.

That finished the tense duel in which Rhino gave only seven hits to Roberts' eight, struck out 10 batters to Roberts' 13 and walked only one to Roberts' 10. It was the last college appearance for Rhino, little Atlanta senior, and the finish could not have been sharper. He retired the last 15 Bulldogs in a row.

Coach Jim Whatley stakes Georgia's final hopes on Al Parrish (5-1). Tech's Joe Pittard will come back with Dave Redford (1-5). Both are sophomore right-handers.

Tech took a 1-0, first-inning lead when Rhino's wind-wafted double off Johnny Clifton's glove in deep center brought Brannon home from first base. Brannon had walked.

Georgia evened it in its half when Andrews singled, moved to second on Rhino's wild pitch and scored on Sherrer's double.

Tech commandeered another lead—2-1—in the second. Austin, Wilmington, N. C., junior, walked, took second and third on a passed ball and wild pitch and 'counted on Brannon's single.

Again, in the fourth, Georgia tied the score. Clifton singled, made second base on a passed ball and came in when second baseman Jimmy Rogers muffed John Marshall's dribbler.

The Bulldogs moved out front, 3-2, on Andrews' 330-foot home run over the leftfield fence in the fifth.

Tech surged back in the seventh. Frank Marmon singled through the box, took second on Rogers' infield out and third on another by Brannon. He scored when Rhino's liner went right through Andrews.

That made it 3-3 at the end of the seventh, but the windup had to wait for five innings and semi-dusk.

If Georgia recoups Saturday, the playoff will open at Starkville, Miss., Tuesday. The second game would be played at Athens Wednesday and a third, if necessary, also at Athens Thursday.

Epsten's 70 Captures First Jaycee Tourney

Steve Epsten of Atlanta fired a two-under-par 70 Friday afternoon to win the championship flight of the first annual Jaycee golf tournament at Druid Hills golf club. Atlanta's Gus Naumann was runner-up with 72.

The one-day tournament will be a permanent feature of the Junior Chamber of Commerce state convention. A challenge trophy, which must be won three years in succession by the same person for permanent possession, is presented the championship flight winner.

The tournament was played in four flights with Atlanta's Bill Clay's 71 taking top honors in the A division over Decatur's Bob Dallas. Dallas' 73 nosed out tournament-manager Jim Hammond by one stroke for second.

Thomasville's Pete Jones romped home with a 70 in the B flight to beat Earl Keene, 73; Horace Evans, 74; and Lee Price, 75.

C flight was another close battle for first with Herman Friedlander of Moultrie getting the nod with a 73 to nip George Wise by one stroke. Thomasville's Theodore Titus trailed with 76.

Winners in all divisions were awarded trophies at a Jaycee dinner at Druid Hills club Friday night.

Methodist Youth To Collect Clothing for War-Devastated Nations

PACKING CLOTHES TO SEND OVERSEAS

By LAURA BARRE

Members of the youth fellowship groups in Atlanta's Methodist churches will begin the biggest project in their history Sunday—a citywide drive for old clothes to be distributed in war-ravaged countries.

They are asking not only Methodists but all Atlantans to dig into their closets for clothes that are still serviceable, according to Bill Hinely, director of the campaign.

More Church News on Page 10

"We are asking people to contribute hats, shoes, gloves, suits, dresses, coats and all other types of clothing," he said.

The young people will collect and box the clothing and send it to the Church World Service Center at New Windsor, Md. From there it will be sent to Korea and other destitute areas.

Youth fellowships in some churches plan parties to which the admission will be a designated amount of clothing. Others are asking church members to bring clothes to the Sunday service as an offering.

A number of groups will collect clothing in their neighborhoods, after letting the neighbors know in advance what they need and when they are coming.

In addition to collecting the clothing, members are asked to pay shipping charges on it. A local storage company has agreed to store it free during the week of the campaign, and a trucking company will transport it to the Maryland center, but from there it will cost eight cents a pound to get the clothing to its final destination.

Many members have agreed to set aside a nickel or dime every day for a month. Donations are being received at almost all of the youth meetings. "Money isn't our chief concern, though," Hinely said. "We are more concerned with getting the clothes. We feel sure we will be able to get them to the people who need them," he added.

"Anyone interested in giving clothing to the drive may donate it at any Methodist church, or call the church and tell us where to pick it up," he said.

The drive will be open through next Saturday.

School of Prayer

The Rt. Rev. Theodore N. Barth, bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Church in Tennessee, will conduct a "School of Prayer" at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Decatur at 7:30 p. m. Monday and Tuesday.

Bishop Barth's visit is being sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary and the Men's Club of the church.

The Women's Auxiliary will observe a Quiet Time from 10:30 a. m. until 12:30 p. m. Tuesday. A short business session will follow.

A nursery will be provided for children during all meetings.

Children's Services

A special Children's Day service is scheduled at 11 a. m. Sunday at Peachtree Road Methodist Church. The children of the church school will join in a processional during the service. The Carol and Cherub choirs will sing.

Mrs. Henry Wagnon, superintendent of the children's division of the church, will read the scripture for the service and Herman M. Thompson, church school superintendent, will lead the prayer.

The Senior Department of the church will take charge of the 7:30 p. m. service. Bill Cox will speak on "Take It Easy" and the Youth Choir will furnish special music. Others who will participate in the program are Jackie Tyndale, Judy Harris, Diane Drake, Jimmy Barker, Bert Bowers, Martha Ann Cox and Ed Jones.

Service Guild Dinner

Wesleyan Service Guild of Haygood Memorial Methodist Church will meet at the church at 6:30 p. m. Monday. A fellowship dinner will be followed by installation of officers and a special "homecoming night" program. All former guild members are invited.

Set Hospital Day

Georgia Baptist Hospital Day will be observed at Avondale First Baptist Church Sunday. A special offering will be received for charity work at the hospital.

Girls' Auxiliary Focus Week and Christian Home Week, both of which begin Sunday, will also be observed.

The Rev. Victor A. Greene, church pastor, will preach a special Mother's Day sermon at the 11 a. m. service.

Unity Center Class

Classes on demonstrating happiness will begin Tuesday at Unity Center. This will be the first in the center's annual summer demonstration series.

The Ladies of Unity and Men of Unity have scheduled a joint dinner party at 7 p. m. Thursday at Dixie House. All members of both organizations are invited.

Women's Council

The Rev. Cameron Thompson, of the Pan-American Testament League, will speak at regular monthly meeting of the Atlanta Christian Business and Professional Women's Council at 6 p. m. Tuesday at the Piedmont Hotel. The council will honor mothers at its meeting.

THE CHURCH IS THE KINGDOM

The church of Christ is the kingdom of Christ. No inspired writer ever made any distinction between the church and the kingdom. Jesus told his disciples that he would build his church and that he would give Peter the keys of the kingdom (Mt. 16: 18, 19).

Marks of Identity

(1) In the fifth century B. C., Daniel foretold the establishment of the kingdom of God. He said it would be set up in the days of the kings of the fourth world power, which was the Roman Empire (Dan. 2:44). Since the church was established during that time, the time of establishment of the church was identical with that of the kingdom. (2) The place of establishment (Jerusalem) of the church was the place where the kingdom began (Acts 2:29, 30). (3) The ruler of the church (Christ, Col. 1:18) is the ruler of the kingdom (1 Tim. 6:15; 1 Cor. 15:25, 26). (4) The territory of the church is identical with that of the kingdom (heaven and earth, Mt. 28:18). (5) The laws which govern the church are the same as those of the kingdom (the New Testament, Rom. 8:2; Heb. 9:15; 12:28). (6) The personnel of the church (members) is identical with that of the kingdom (citizens, Eph. 1:22, 2:19). (7) The duties of members of the church are the same as the duties of citizens of the kingdom (Col. 1:10-13). (8) The power of propagation in the church is the same as that in the kingdom (the word of God, Lk. 8:11; Acts 8:4). (9) The conditions of entrance into the church are identical with those of the kingdom (Jn. 3:5; Acts 2:38).

MERV ROSELL CRUSADE OPENS HERE TONIGHT

President Eisenhower Speaks on Religion

Gives Views To Rosell In Exclusive Interview

"Good government is the practical outliving of real spiritual faith," President Dwight D. Eisenhower told Evangelist Merv Rosell recently.

Rosell interviewed the President during a crusade in the Midwest.

Eisenhower also said, "We are a fortunate people that our forefathers placed their first trust in God. They built our free form of government upon a deep and abiding spiritual faith. It is a great privilege for me to join with you in our common prayer for permanent world peace."

Rosell told reporters following the interview with Eisenhower that, "More and more, our statesmen and political leaders must pay attention to the rising strength of the American church. The 80 million people in this country who are church members constitute a power bloc today which is greater than the GI bloc, the labor bloc, the farm bloc or any other special interest group in existence."

PRES. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

F. B. I. CHIEF CITES U. S. A.'s GREATEST NEED

With juvenile crime steadily on the increase, Americans must "clean up democracy at home" by rebuilding their religious fiber and restoring their home values, is the view of J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"I am sure if more emphasis were placed on the Gospel of Salvation, and less on social justice, the latter would be a greater reality," said Hoover.

"A moral decadence in the United States is emphasized by the arrest of 108,787 young people under the age of 21."

"What we need," he continued, "is a return to God, more specifically a return to the practice of religion. That, without a doubt, is the greatest need in America today."

There are 60 suicides every day, a murder every forty minutes. Billions of dollars are being spent annually on crime and drink. Immorality and sex laxity are so alarming that few feel safe on the streets at night. There is but one answer for the many problems confronting us, it is a spiritual awakening.

Special Events Planned

Many special features have been arranged for the Merv Rosell Crusade, and all planned to reach a cross-section of the population of Greater Atlanta.

In addition to the regular crusade services in City Auditorium (Week nights at 7:30; Sundays 3:00), a noon-day service will be held in the open air Monday through Friday from 12:10 to 12:45 on Walton St. between Peachtree and Broad (between C. and S. Bank and Muse's).

The Crusade staff will appear daily. Guest musical groups from the Atlanta area will be featured at the evening services.

The Salvation Army Band will present a concert preceding the Sunday afternoon service, and will also appear at other times during the series. A large chorus choir will sing nightly. Pianists and organists announced for the crusade are Don Hoosier, Frances Shrum, and Don Deese.

Merv Rosell Warns: "Defeatism in Nervous Century Spells Disaster"

OFFERS SOLUTION TO PROBLEMS OF TOPSY-TURVY WORLD

Merv Rosell, leader of the Atlanta Crusade for Christ, said today, This is a nervous century! This is a decade of defeatism. A year of fear is upon us.

CHRIST IS THE ANSWER! Internationally: Christianity is the only ideology fervent enough to stop Communism. In our great cities and states: Christianity is the only real answer to CRIME . . . a curative and a preventive!

Individually, Christ is the answer to every human heart, mind and life! Sensible psychologists, scientists and down-to-earth analysts, all have come to the conclusion that you and I need: first, economic security, love and effection, normal inquiry and understanding.

It all boils down to this: We need to be sure of our homes; our jobs; our future!

We need second, they say: A sense of belonging, sharing, contributing and achieving. Man to man, we all want a part of some real job that counts . . . WE WANT TO SUCCEED. The Bible says, "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." A wounded Marine told me that verse brought him back from the bloody hills of Korea, when only 4 out of 45 made it.

Third, we need freedom from fear. Faith cancels fear!

Fourth, we need freedom from worries and frustrations. The Bible says: "In nothing be anxious but by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God!"

And fifth, we need freedom from guilt and blame—before men and before God—and before the court of our own honest hearts! The Bible says, "If we confess our sins He is faithful and just to forgive our sins and cleanse us from all unrighteousness!"

The millions of people that I talk to personally every year, particularly the young people, do not know what they want, why they want it, where they are going, why they are living. And when we sweep them out of high schools by the thousands and regiment them to armies, they are not even sure why they have to die, much less how to be ready for that tragic hour.

You cannot escape it. There is only one way of salvation. Christ is the answer! To delay your decision may mean disaster.

Shake off the spell of defeatism. Know what there is to live for. Pledge your all-out allegiance to Christ . . . and have something to die for.

Right now make that decision to put your active faith in the only person who can guarantee life worth living . . . Here . . . and eternal life . . . here-after! Our Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ.

BILLY GRAHAM SAYS "ROSELL OUTSTANDING REVIVALIST"

Billy Graham, famed evangelist, speaking before a great banquet crowd in Philadelphia recently, referred to Merv Rosell as "the outstanding revivalist in the country today."

He continued, "Rosell is the greatest preacher I know. He leaves not only an impact on the cities where he has been but on the churches as well."

Rosell and Graham are close friends, having appeared together in campaigns in America and Europe.

"Prayer Must Be The Foundation" – Rosell

"The dynamic for this twentieth century is a bed-rock of spiritual power and the vehicle is prayer," says Evangelist Merv Rosell.

He continued, "Nothing lies beyond the power of prayer, except that which lies outside the will of God.

"Notable historic events have proved again and again the power of prayer. God says, 'Call unto me and I will answer thee and show thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not.' Revivals are not temporary emotional splurges, but actually they are the heart throbs of nations who need the power of God in an hour of urgency.

"Earnest prayer can produce spiritual revival. Revivals are not out of date as long as trouble and sin flood the world.

"The crisis is acute, the danger imminent. The only answer is revival—the only means is prayer. America MUST begin to pray."

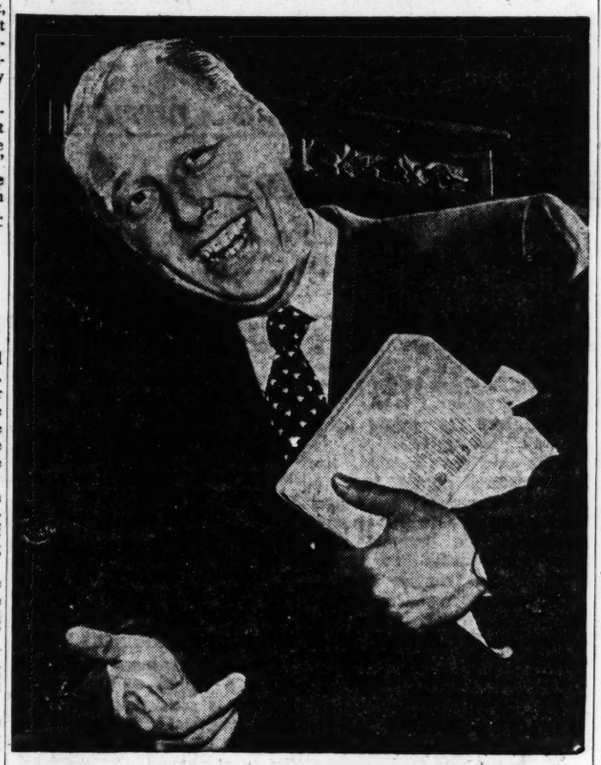

Read Psalms 62:11.

Alcatraz Prisoners Hear Rosell

Alcatraz Federal Penitentiary, in which the nation's most dangerous criminals are imprisoned, was recently visited by Merv Rosell. He addressed the prisoners and had the privilege of leading nine of them to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ.

Each prisoner on the rocky, fortified Alcatraz Island has from 300 to 1,000 years of sentences over his head.

Wendell Wellman and his "Thoughts for Today" and "Toward Tomorrow" radio and TV programs, and Rev. Jon Pirtle "Revival Hour" TV and radio programs, and others for relinquishing their time so that the news of the Crusade might be heard by thousands in this area.

Evangelist Rosell, of LaCanada, Calif., has spoken to more than a million persons during the past year in history making crusades. He comes to Atlanta highly recommended by church and civic leaders from across the country.

The evangelistic series opening tonight will continue through Sunday, May 19, with week night sessions scheduled for 7:30 and Sundays at 3:00.

Governor Herman Talmadge and Mayor William Hartsfield will appear in person at the Sunday afternoon meeting to officially welcome Merv Rosell and his party to Georgia and Atlanta.

With Rosell will be his music master, Hilding Halvarson, of Seattle, well known in this area; and Cy Jackson, co-ordinator, of Des Moines, Iowa. Jackson has been in Atlanta for the past week assisting the local committees in their activities.

The "sin-smashing" crusader Rosell expounds the belief that the only answer to the problems of the world is a spiritual awakening. The 40-year-old crusader is regarded as unsurpassed in his approach to the problems of this day.

Wherever he has conducted crusades the evangelist has attracted large crowds, and the spiritual results have been phenomenal. Many of his crusades have been described as the "greatest since the days of Billy Sunday."

In Kansas City nightly crowds of over 12,000 attended the series in the Municipal auditorium arena for more than three weeks.

The Des Moines, Iowa, crusade was held in a 10-000-seat tent erected on the State Capitol lawn. One of the Des Moines meetings drew a crowd estimated by newspaper reporters as over 30,000, and which was referred to by Iowa's Governor William S. Beardsley as "the largest religious gathering in the history of Iowa."

Crowds up to 16,000 attended the Philadelphia crusade held in famed Convention Hall.

Similar campaigns have been conducted in Denver, Phoenix, Chicago, Chattanooga, Oakland, Calif.; Billings, Mont.; Boise, Idaho, and Los Angeles.

The Rosell team comes to Atlanta following a successful crusade in Everett, Wash.

Doors to the City Auditorium will open one hour prior to the starting time of each service.

The follow-up program will be conducted by the pastors so that the results of the meeting may be directed into the local churches.

Rosell said recently, "I am personally and vitally concerned about the lasting results of our city-wide crusades. We are interested in seeing every convert channelled into the local church."

He continued, "I trust it shall always be said that a united Rosell crusade is for the church, by the church, in the church and continues years following, through the church."

Rosell Is 20th Century Crusader

A 40-year-old California evangelist, Merv Rosell, comes to Atlanta to vigorously challenge the citizens of this area with the belief that unless America turns to God we are doomed.

He urges a strengthening of Christian principles, starting in the homes and churches and spreading through government from the local to the international level. Such action now can change the course of history, he believes.

Rosell said, "What we have seen in other great cities and states across America which have been moved by the power of God, we trust we can see in the Atlanta area." Rosell's genial personality, his background of world travel—all challenge the attention of the thousands who hear him in every crusade. Once seen and heard, Merv cannot be forgotten.

The Rosell family—"Vi" and the three young Rosells, Marlynn 15, Garth 12, and Jan 7, reside in La Canada, Calif. Mrs. Rosell consented to become the wife of Merv in her final year at law school at the University of Minnesota.

Reared in the lake-studded state of Minnesota and later warmed by extended residence in the deep South, Rosell marks his 20th year in evangelistic endeavor.

Through itinerant campaigns during his college days to city-wide crusades across the nation and beyond; the missionary journeys in South America, Europe and North Africa, and, finally, to the great mass evangelistic efforts of recent years, Rosell's career has been marked with overwhelming success.

Rosell often says, "In our ministry, it is self-evident that only God could have done it."

30,000 Grandmothers Pray for Rosell

"Grandmothers' Night" is one of the highlights during the Rosell crusades. Wherever he goes the evangelist selects a "grandmother queen" one night of the series. In Denver more than 600 grandmothers attended on "their night."

Over 30,000 grandmothers across America are daily praying for Rosell and his city-wide campaigns.

"Grandmothers' Night" during the Atlanta crusade will be announced.

Football Champs Decide For Christ

During a recent Merv Rosell crusade in Billings, Montana, four members of the Worland, Wyoming, championship football team accepted Christ as Saviour. One of the boys brought his entire family to the final crusade meeting—and they all decided for Christ.

Persons of all ages—and all walks of life—are attracted to the Rosell crusades. Christ is the answer to the world ills—and anyone may lay claim to the remedy.

A history-making spiritual advance is expected to take place in Atlanta during the next 9 days Everyone in the area will feel the effects of the campaign.

"Miracle Organization" Says Rosell Of His Team

HILDING HALVARSON

CY JACKSON

Halvarson and Jackson Team With Rosell

"God definitely placed us together as an answer to the prayer of our hearts," said Rosell speaking of his team.

He continued, "There is a unanimity of spirit and an utter confidence of heart that this is God's plan for us in these years of spiritual awakening in America."

With the evangelist in Atlanta will be Hilding Halvarson, noted tenor soloist from Seattle. He will also direct the congregational singing and lead the huge chorus choir which will sing nightly. Halvarson is a successful business man who devotes much of his time to crusading with Rosell.

Cy Jackson, whose home is in Des Moines, Iowa, is crusade co-ordinator and personal representative of Merv Rosell. Formerly personnel investigator with a large rubber company, Jackson brings to the business planning of each crusade a wealth of great faith in the miracle power of God for these revival days.

Telephone Crusade Reaches Every Home

Every residential telephone in Atlanta will "ring for Christ" during the Atlanta area Crusade for Christ. Trained personnel will by telephone invite every Atlanta resident to the series at the City Auditorium.

An extensive promotional program has been carried out so that everyone within at least a 100-mile radius of Atlanta will know that "something is happening in the City Auditorium.

GOVERNORS ENDORSE ROSELL; LANGLIE AND BEARDLEY ACCLAIM HIM HIGHLY

Other Civic and Religious Leaders Praise Evangelist

Wherever he has directed crusades, Rosell has won the admiration of key civic and religious leaders.

Washington's Governor Arthur B. Langlie said, "Those of us who know Merv Rosell can recommend him very highly for the fine Christian work he does. He is outstanding in his ministry of helping people to find a new Christian experience."

Following the Des Moines, Iowa crusade, Iowa's Governor William S. Beardsley said, "The people of Iowa were thrilled with the presence of Merv Rosell. Meetings were held on our Capitol grounds which broke all records in the history of 104 years of statehood. We Iowans recommend Merv Rosell. He is a real crusader for Christ."

Mayor Quigg Newton, of Denver Colo., said, "Your Crusade in Denver had phenomenal success."

Dr. Chas E. Fuller, beloved director of the "Old-Fashioned Revival Hour," says of Rosell, "We heartily recommend the ministry of Merv Rosell. There are few men that we would so enthusiastically endorse."

Quarter Million Hear Rosell in Kansas City

A QUARTER OF A MILLION PEOPLE jam-packed the block square Municipal Auditorium Arena during the Merv Rosell Kansas City crusade. Police squad cars were called to handle the overflow. The series continued for more than three weeks. The Atlanta area is anticipating a similar experience as famed Crusader Rosell opens his campaign tonight at the City Auditorium. Record crowds are expected.

Lindale Mother Learns From Moreland Son Is PW

Constitution State News Service

LINDALE, May 8—The mother of a Lindale soldier who has been missing in action in Korea for more than two years learned Friday from Atlanta's repatriated POW, Pfc. William G. Moreland, that her son is a prisoner at Communist Camp No. 1.

Mrs. Grace Balkcom, mother of Pvt. William M. Balkcom, said Moreland told her by telephone that he saw her son on April 14 at Camp 1 just before the Atlanta GI was released.

"Moreland said Billy was all right and that he hadn't lost a limb," Mrs. Balkcom said. "I asked him about that specifically," she said.

Although Mrs. Balkcom and the soldier's father, Morgan Balkcom, have not yet received word from the Defense Department identifying their son as a POW, a release received Friday by The Constitution officially lists him as captured.

Balkcom was drafted on Oct. 19, 1950, landed in Korea on April 7, 1951, and was wounded on April 23, she said. He was listed as missing in action two days later.

Since that time, Mrs. Balkcom said, she has received 13 letters and a Christmas card from her son. Until last August, she said, the letters have been postmarked from Camp No. 1. Since that time, there have been no return addresses on the letters, Mrs. Balkcom added.

Mrs. Balkcom said she now corresponds with 72 American prisoners of war held in several Communist prison camps. "I put the same things in those letters as I do in my Billy's mail," she said.

Senate Okays Extra Judge In 5th Circuit

An additional judgeship for the Fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals was approved Friday by the U. S. Senate in Washington.

The circuit includes Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and the Panama Canal Zone.

In approving creation of 39 more federal judgeships, the Senate followed Senator Russell's suggestion and killed a provision which would have let the President appoint a temporary judge where a sitting judge refuses to retire, even though no longer able to perform his duties because of illness or age. Russell said this would have been another delegation of congressional responsibility.

SHORTAGE OF NURSES IS A DIFFICULTY

McDuffie Hospital Cutting Deficit

This is the 25th and final article in a series of on-the-spot reports on Georgia's Hill-Burton hospitals in operation a year or more.

By KATHERINE BARNWELL

Constitution Staff Writer

THOMSON, May 8—The 29-bed McDuffie County Hospital has attracted two surgeons to Thomson, but the hospital has had difficulty in getting enough nurses.

James E. Smith, administrator, said it's "hard to get nurses to come to a small town."

"They love the bright lights too well," he explained.

Smith said the hospital has five registered nurses, four undergraduate nurses and eight practical nurses. He said he tries to operate the hospital with those nurses who live permanently in the Thomson area.

The hospital, which opened Jan. 18, 1952, now has five local doctors on its medical staff, headed by Dr. Frank Gibson. Twenty out-of-town doctors are on the courtesy staff.

ATTRACTS SURGEONS

Dr. E. J. Maxwell, chief of surgery, said the hospital definitely attracted the two surgeons to Thomson.

"A surgeon must have a hospital—or go broke," he observed.

Built under the Hill-Burton Act with federal, state and local funds totaling $325,000, the hospital had 934 admissions during its first year of operation.

Smith said the occupancy rate was almost 40 per cent—but it has been "rather erratic." At times, the hospital is full. At other times, it has only three or four patients.

Smith, the hospital's second administrator, said Thomson had no previous hospital facilities—and many patients were "in the habit" of going out of town for hospitalization.

He said they went to hospitals in Augusta, Washington, Louisville and other nearby towns—"and some of them still do."

OPERATING EXPENSES

Operating expenses total about $8,000 a month—and operating income is somewhat less than that. Smith said the hospital had a deficit but he did not disclose the exact amount.

He said McDuffie County has a three-mill tax to help support the hospital. But the main problems of the hospital still involve money and personnel—there is a shortage of both.

The hospital's rates range from $8 to $10 a day for white patients. About 50 per cent of the patients have some form of hospitalization insurance.

H. C. McCorkle is chairman of the board of the hospital authority.

H. L. Turner, a member of the board, said the patient load is growing and the deficit is getting a little smaller every month.

"People who have been to the hospital are pleased," Turner said.

Dr. Maxwell said the hospital's equipment is "as good as can be had in any hospital, regardless of size."

He said the hospital is equipped for general surgery; but no brain or thoracic surgery is done here.

Dr. John Thomas, an optometrist and president of the Thomson Kiwanis Club, said the people of this community are "not using the hospital now as much as they will in the future."

"That's one of the drawbacks," he said, "but I believe they will get in the habit of using the hospital here. I've heard no crtiicism or complaints about the hospital. There was a definite need for it, and I believe it will succeed."

Peachtree Church Marks 28th Year

Members of Peachtree Christian Church will celebrate the church's 28th anniversary Sunday. Dr. Robert W. Burns, church pastor since 1930, will preach on "Love Means Most at Home," at the 11 a. m. service.

FACTS

Surely you will agree that a CHANGE is needed after reading the following facts:

I. ARROGANCE—

Wasn't it an evidence of arrogance when the Mayor used his influence to change the Primary from September to May to gain an advantage in the election—notwithstanding the protests of the newspapers, League of Women Voters, Junior Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations.

Wasn't it an evidence of arrogance when the Mayor termed good citizens who differ with him selfish, City-haters, foes of progress.

II. DEFEATISM—

Isn't it apparent that the Mayor admitted he's whipped on traffic when he stated he would vote for CHARLIE BROWN himself if Mr. Brown thought he could solve the traffic situation.

Isn't it apparent when the Mayor offers no answer to Atlanta's 102 murders in 1952, the highest per capita rate in the nation.

Isn't it apparent when traffic fatalities, 62 in 1952, continue to mount.

III. POLITICAL POWER

Southern Stock Issue Sold Out

An offering of 1,004,869 shares of Southern Company common stock was oversubscribed by stockholders 40 per cent, E. A. Yates, chairman of the board, announced Friday.

Subscription offer of the stock at $14 per share was mailed to stockholders April 17 and the subscription period expired Thursday. Proceeds from the sale will be invested in the equities of the four associated operating companies, the Georgia, Alabama, Gulf and Mississippi Power Companies.

The system's expenditures for new construction in 1953 will total approximately $100,000,000 and will include the completion of new generating plants or units in each of the four states.

Increased costs in crude oil production was the most important factor in reduced earnings, the company stated. Reserve Board Chairman Optimistic About Future

By ALEX JOINER

Youngish-looking William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, is optimistic over the economic outlook, but making no predictions.

Martin, looking at 46 more like a college under-graduate than a Wall Street wonder, was here on a routine visit and to attend the May meeting Friday of Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta directors.

He said he wasn't making any predictions on prices, wages, credit, or even business.

"I can say, however, that I am hopeful about the future. If fiscal and monetary problems and debt management are handled wisely, we can sustain our prosperity and probably reach even higher levels."

While declining answers to direct questions on interest rates and other basic monetary questions, Martin said the nation should realize it has a flexible economy and adjustments have to be made from time to time.

"And" he added, "I think the adjustments will be more satisfactory for everyone if we follow concepts of private property, free competitive enterprise and the profit motive in accord with the decisions of the market place rather than the judgments of boards of directors or Washington officials, even cabinet officers."

The economy at the present time is healthy, the reserve chairman said.

Martin is a native of St. Louis and was president of the New York Stock Exchange from 1938-'41. He has been chairman of the reserve board of governors since April, 1951.

Following the directors meeting here he was entertained at a luncheon at the Capital City Club by Frank H. Neely, chairman of the board of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, and Malcolm H. Bryan, president.

The chairman will leave Saturday for New Orleans where, on Monday, he will deliver the Founder's Day address at Tulane University. His subject will be "Money and Policy."

Lint Futures Trade Lags

NEW YORK, May 8—(AP)—Cotton futures closed 15 to 75 cents a bale higher today. Trading was slow, but mill buying and short covering, prior to the week end, found offerings limited. Traders felt the market showed signs of being oversold.

The Agriculture department said reports from the nation's gins indicated that the 1952 cotton crop totaled 15,136,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. This was 8,000 bales less than the 1951 crop but 3,361,000 more than the 10-year average.

The combined value of cotton and cottonseed was put at $3,047,261,000 or about 8 per cent less than the 1951 value of $3,303,627,000.

Do You Want A "Part Time" Mayor?

Atlanta citizens were shocked to hear Charlie Brown say on television that "being Mayor is only a part-time job." To those interested in the financial standing of the City of Atlanta; to working men and women with limited time to see the Mayor; to business men expecting a business-like administration of city affairs, such an attitude on the part of a candidate for mayor is irresponsible and shows a shocking ignorance of city administration.

Can't Balance '54 Budget, Humphrey Tells Senators

Fears Higher Debt Limit To Protect U. S. Security

we cannot balance the budget this year, I do not believe it should be balanced this year," Humphrey said. "The risks it would involve in our security would simply be too great."

While Humphrey used the term "this year" it was clear he was referring to fiscal 1954 which starts July 1.

MARTIN HOPEFUL

But House Speaker Martin said he is not yet ready to give up hope for a balanced budget.

"I realize we have a very difficult job ahead of us, but I would not abandon hope until Congress has acted on all of the appropriations bills," he said.

Chairman Taber (Rep., N. Y.) of the House appropriations committee also said it is too early to write off a balanced budget. He said he "would not be happy with an unbalanced budget" until the new defense team makes "every possible saving" and has a chance to eliminate waste.

"WILL EXPLORE"

Chairman Bridges (Rep., N. H.) of the Senate appropriations committee said: "I'm still hopeful that we can balance the budget next year, and we're certainly going to explore the whole situation."

Senator Byrd (D., Va.), who declined appointment as secretary of the treasury under Mr. Eisenhower, disagreed with Humphrey's stand.

"I still contend that, if taxes are not reduced, we can balance the budget," Byrd said. "The longer we delay balancing the budget, the more difficult it will be."

Byrd predicted that any move to raise the present debt limit of $275,000,000,000 would be "very unfortunate" and would meet "great resistance" in Congress. The national debt is now $265,583,000,000.

IN SECRET

Humphrey testified in secret but the committee later released some of his remarks.

He said the difficulty in cutting the budget is that 65 to 70 per cent of the expenditures are for national security. About half of the remainder is for fixed items —established by law—and over which the administration has no control.

"That leaves only 15 to 17 per cent of the total budget which is really subject to reduction unless you involve security," he said.

"I am very disappointed in our ability not to go further in reducing the contemplated budget deficit," Humphrey said. "We have not been able to make the reductions I personally hoped to make."

Former President Truman estimated a deficit of $9,900,000,000 for fiscal 1954 based on estimated spending for the year of $78,600,000,000. The administration has cut about $4,000,000,000 from this spending figure, not quite half the amount needed to fill the gap estimated by Truman.

LOWER TAX RETURN

In addition, Mr. Eisenhower is faced with lower tax returns than were expected when the earlier deficit figure was made.

Humphrey's appraisal hurt the campaign by Chairman Reed of the tax-writing House ways and means committee to reduce personal taxes about 10 per cent June 30 when the excess profits tax on business is scheduled to expire.

Individual taxes now are due to come down Jan. 1, but Reed wants to advance the date. He has 66 signatures on a discharge petition to force the measure out of the House rules committee where it had been bottled up by House leaders. He needs 218. Humphrey's statement will make them harder to get.

It also provided ammunition for Byrd and like-minded legislators who believe it may be necessary to postpone—rather than advance—tax reductions to balance the budget. Taft once said he was inclined to take this view.

Preston Hits Budget Cut As Unwise

farmers is the same as the Hoover platform of 1928," he declared.

Preston said he would fight to prevent a proposed cut in funds for vocational agriculture—a cut which would cost Georgia $200,000 in federal funds.

"The only effective way the federal budget can be balanced is to reduce military spending, because 83 per cent of the budget goes to military," he commented. "Everyone knows it is no time to reduce military spending with world conditions as they are."

Touching on the international situation, the representative said any truce in Korea should include a settlement of the conflict in Indochina.

"Otherwise, we would be simply moving the battleground from Korea to Indochina," Preston pointed out. "The Chinese Communists are fighting in both places. The United Nations intervened in Korea to protect a little independent nation. To be consistent, we would have to intervene in Indochina."

Even if Russia signed a treaty Preston said he would have little faith in it, because of Russia's past actions on treaties.

The representative was asked about speculation that he might run for governor next year.

"I have received encouragement in letters," he replied, "but I am not seriously considering running for governor."

decisions would be affected by veto power.

EARLIER PROPOSAL

Harrison recalled that the Communists had proposed previously that the fate of prisoners unwilling to return to their homelands be put off until a post-armistice political conference.

Harrison said the UN had objected to this feature of the original Red plan and that the new version still provided for indefinite imprisonment of the captives.

He said the new Red truce plan still amounts to "coercing" the prisoners to accept repatriation.

He said that in his comments on the Communists' original plan, he had "showed that the proposal did not constitute a final solution to the problem."

16 Mau Mau Die Attacking Police Camp

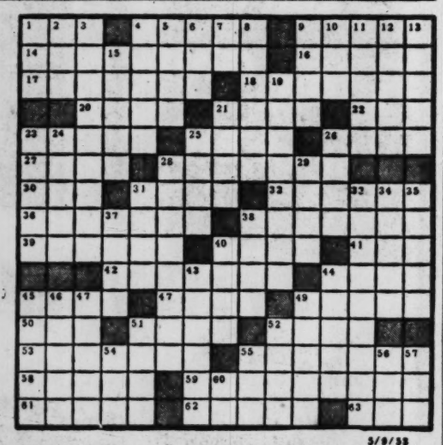

New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

NAIROBI, Kenya, May 8—The heaviest fighting of the Mau Mau rebellion took place early today at a police center at Othaya in the Nyeri area west of Mount Kenya. A Mau Mau force carried out a military attack on the barbed-wire protected police camp.

The King's African Rifles repulsed the attack after 40 minutes of fighting. Sixteen Mau Mau were left dead on the field and four others were wounded and captured. Others were believed to have been wounded and patrols were sent out in pursuit of Mau Mau who fled toward the Aberdare mountain fastnesses, where the main body of Mau Mau are now believed to be organizing military units, a new development that is giving the rebellion the character of open warfare. The assault on the Othaya police camp was the third recent attack in force. The Kings' Rifles suffered no casualties.

A bugle blast signaled the Mau Mau attack, which was made in three waves. The tribesmen dragged a bren gun to within 15 yards of the barbed wire, firing at point-blank range.

Glorious Past Seen On Tour

By CELESTINE SIBLEY
Constitution Staff Writer

MILLEDGEVILLE — Not all the visitors who are flocking into this elderly Georgia town to join the celebration of its 150th birthday are interested in what is oratorically referred to as "Milledgeville's glorious past."

Those who move out from sesquicentennial headquarters on Greene St. by the carload between the hours of 2:30 and 5 o'clock every afternoon are interested in the living present —and they do mean living.

They want to see how Milledgeville lives. They are curious to know what life is like back of those fabled white columns now, as well as 150 years ago.

HOME TOUR

That's why the tour of homes, a one-day attraction in Milledgeville for the last decade or so, has been stretched to a week-long affair this year, to become one of the biggest drawing cards of the sesquicentennial celebration.

Eight old homes and one fabulous new one are open to holders of the $1.50 tickets, along with such public structures as the Masonic Building, built in 1832; Georgia Military College with its replica of the original capitol built in 1807; St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, built in 1843; Sidney Lanier Room in Thalian Hall, and the old Executive Mansion, built in 1838.

Every day this week before midday dinner is more than out of the way Milledgeville matrons rush about to put their homes in a last-minute state of polished order and serenity. Or, if they are not displaying their own homes, they rush into long, swishy frocks to go and help some neighbor "receive." About the same time a dozen or so of Georgia State College for Women's fairest students are released from class and sent forth in billowing tulles and hoop skirts to further enhance the premises of the historic homes by assisting the hostesses.

CANDLELIT ROOM

Accustomed as they are to antiquity, the house all Milledgeville citizens are talking about this year is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Hines on West Hancock St. Faithfully Greek revival in architecture, the red brick, white-columned house is filled with breath-takingly beautiful antiques which its owners have collected from all over the world.

French Empire and English Regency pieces fill the downstairs rooms. The dining room is papered with an imported French wallpaper which reproduces, from old wood cuts, a series of American scenic prints—Niagara Falls, the Natural Bridge, West Point and many others.

This room, furnished with a long, gleaming banquet-size table, lovely little Empire chairs and silver-laden sideboards in the same period, has no electric lights.

PEMBROKE TEA TABLE IN PARLOR AT GARRARD HOME IS ONE OF MANY

The chandelier, also French Empire, holds above a glittering prism base dozens of white tapers, which are reflected in mirrors and matched by other candles on sideboard serving tables.

The Hines home is the youngest house on display in Milledgeville and the home of Miss Elizabeth Ferguson, librarian at GSCW, built in 1818, is the oldest. Miss Ferguson's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. David Ferguson, were newspaper people who came back to Mrs. Ferguson's ancestral home to settle after years of working and traveling abroad.

The double parlors, the library and the dining room of the house are open to the public. Some of the furniture has been in the house since Miss Ferguson's great-grandfather Peter J. Williams built it for his bride, Miss Lucinda Parke, of Greensboro, 135 years ago.

Between the youngest and the oldest houses are Miss Mary Cline's 1820 house, which was built by the Confederate Gen. John B. Gordon and was used as the home of the governor while the mansion was being built.

Mrs. J. I. Garrard, widow of a doctor at Milledgeville State Hospital, and herself a native of Eatonton, has acquired "The Cedars," the old house which was built about 1825.

Other houses which are open are the home of Mrs. J. D. Willis at Midway, built in 1850; the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Fraley on Columbia Street, built in 1940 and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Herring, Montgomery Street, built in 1865.

At the party Mrs. Rembert Marshall will take over leadership of the women's committee from Mrs. Lon Grove.

A Rhyme a Day

"You are urged to vote in the coming election. Make your own choice, but be sure to vote."—Seasonable quote.

I guess, at times, most everyone . . . gets low in spirits and depressed . . . to see how little we have done . . . to find how little we've progressed . . . your paper comes: you read about . . . a murder, burglary or theft . . . or other crimes and then you doubt . . . there's anybody decent left.

But, fortunately, such a mood . . . does not stay with us very long . . . then we are filled with gratitude . . . that right so often conquers wrong . . . and there are people who are sweet . . . polite and courteous and gay . . . (these are the candidates you meet . . . some weeks before election day.)

Their many virtues are extolled . . . their imperfections overlooked . . . until the final votes are polled . . . and many have their gooses cooked . . . they're all so wonderful and fine . . . it makes one wish he could assist . . . them all and go right down the line . . . and vote for each one on the list.

Stocks End 2d Week With Gain

New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

NEW YORK, May 8—Stocks ended the second successive week with a gain today, and found themselves at the close almost exactly where they were five weeks earlier, on April 10. Prices drifted lower early in the day, but recovered enough to show a gain in the final 90 minutes.

Volume was generally trifling, only 1,220,000 shares, and might have slipped through the seven-month low of 1,110,000 established on both Wednesday and Thursday had not RKO Theaters chosen the day to buy 150,000 shares of the company's stock under a previously announced executive stock option program.

There was a slight improvement starting about midday and continuing until the early afternoon. The market was a little below its best in the final half-hour, but the close was firm and prices generally higher.

Southern Company, down ¼ and Pressed Steel Car, down ⅛, were exceptions in the list of the 10 most active stocks. All the others, including American Telephone and Telegraph, up ½, showed gains. Pacific Western Oil, with an advance of 1⅜, Tide Water Associated, up ⅝, and Texas Gulf Producing, up 1½, were strong and active spots.

American Car and Foundry made a new high for the year at 40⅞ with a gain of ¾. General Electric rose 1¼ to 72⅞.

Among the rails, Rock Island jumped 2½ points and Kansas City Southern, which goes "ex" a 100 per cent stock dividend on Monday, rose 1½.

General Motors rose ⅛ and Chrysler ⅝. Bethlehem Steel was unchanged and United States Steel gained an eighth. Other steels gained fractions. Big Steel raised rail prices after the close of the market.

ITU Ordered To Bargain In Good Faith

New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, May 8—The National Labor Relations Board issued a broad order today requiring the International Typographical Union, AFL, to bargain in good faith and saying, in effect, it would not accept the union's promise to obey the law without such an order.

The complaint against the union, based on charges brought by the American Newspaper Publishers Association, was issued five years ago.

The order applies to the union's bargaining relationships throughout the newspaper industry in the United States. It directed the union to cease evading the obligation to bargain in good faith "not only by devices designed to establish unlawful closed shop conditions, but also by any means tending to interfere with the establishment of genuine collective bargaining on a basis of mutuality."

The union was directed to post in all places where notices to members are customarily posted a copy of the board's order and to notify the board within 10 days what steps it has taken to comply.

Grains Show Slight Gains

CHICAGO, May 8—(AP)—Most grains ended higher on the Board of Trade today, although not sufficiently to cancel losses received in the previous session.

The best upturn was made by May contracts, helped along to a good extent by short-covering. A feeling prevailed in some quarters that the market had been oversold and was ready for a technical rally.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to 1⅝ higher, corn 1⅛ lower to ¾ higher, oats ¼-⅜ higher, rye ⅛ lower to 1¼ higher, soybeans unchanged to ¾ higher and lard 2 to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Prospect of exports in the near future helped wheat. Export circles in New York said they expected West Germany to be in the market next week for about seven million bushels of American wheat and three million bushels of Canadian.

In addition, the Mutual Security Administration granted Yugoslavia $6,050,000 to buy American bread grains. This could be either wheat or rye. Formosa obtained $1,900,000 to buy wheat.

Traders in oats were interested in a statement by Agriculture Secretary Benson, in a letter to Senator Young (Rep., N. D.) that he was consulting with Canadian officials about limiting oats exports to the United States "to quantities which will not materially interefere with our price support program."

FIRST U. S. EXHIBITION

Architecture in Germany Since War on Photo Display

Atlanta has been chosen as the first American city to display a photographic exhibition of postwar German building.

Sixty photographs, collected by the Federation of German Architects and illustrating "the spiritual, technical and formal traditions being followed in German building today," make up an exhibit which opened in Georgia Tech's new Architecture Building Friday.

The exhibit will be on display to the public from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily, except Sundays, through May 15.

The 60 photographs on display depict building from 1945 to the present time and range from industrial plants to opera houses and radio stations. The Federal Republic of Germany is sponsoring their showing in this country. From Atlanta the exhibit will go to San Francisco. It will be shown in other cities over a year's period, ending with a Washington, D. C., display.

Dr. Georg Ahrens, German consul here, pointed out Friday that the exhibit illustrates the fact that modern German architecture is "a far cry from Nazi architecture." Architecture in vogue during the Nazi regime, he pointed out, was "heavy and monumental."

Dr. Ahrens commended efforts of Georgia Tech's Architecture Department, headed by Prof. Harold Bush-Brown, in restoring photographs in this exhibit which had been warped in transit.

Mrs. Pauley Re-Elected by Voter League

ATHENS, May 8—(AP)—Mrs. William C. Pauley was re-elected president of the League of Women Voters of Georgia here today at the final session of the group's of two-day meeting.

Mrs. Margaret K. Comstock, Columbus, was elected chairman of the nominating committee.

Today's luncheon session was climaxed by a panel discussion on "Fair Elections in Georgia." Participating were Sylvan Meyer of the Gainesville Daily Times, Norman Chalker of the Sylvania Telephone, and Milton Beckerman of the Claxton Enterprise.

Meyer spoke on the abuses of elections in the state; Chalker discussed the responsibilities of the press, and Beckerman discussed the responsibilities of individual citizens.

The league adopted a resolution calling for a late primary election next year. It also set up machinery to study the state constitution for the purpose of suggesting needed amendments, particularly on educational clauses.

Withdrawal Halts Baptist Floor Uproar

HOUSTON, Texas, May 8. (AP)—A motion which caused an uproar on the Southern Baptist Convention floor this morning was withdrawn tonight amid loud applause.

There was no further debate, only speeches ringing with Southern Baptist unity.

The Rev. E. D. Soloman, retired Jacksonville, Fla., minister, brought an abrupt end to the controversy when he asked to be permitted to withdraw his motion that the committee on relations with other religious bodies continue its work.

'BE KIND'

"Please be kind, please be nice and let me withdraw the motion," said Soloman, who is attending his 55th session of the convention.

He received unanimous consent. Then the convention gave quick approval to two recommendations from the committee and commended the group for its work.

Soloman's action however, meant the end of the committee in that it has operated from year to year on special assignment from the convention.

Nearly a dozen messengers (delegates) were trying to reach microphones this morning when settlement of the controversy was postponed until the end of tonight's regular business.

Opponents of the committee's report had described it's work as having departed from its original purpose.

SMILINGLY

T. C. Gardner, Dallas, Tex., committee chairman accepted tonight's decision with a smile.

"It has been a hard job and I like the report we submitted today," he said. "This report, however, actually completes the work of the committee."

Dr. J. D. Grey, convention president from New Orleans, then turned to the press table and said, "I am so sorry to disappoint you good people of the press. Southern Baptists are one of the finest examples on the face of this good, green earth. We've gone through controversies, but we've never split."

Hard Policy Setup Pride Of Truman

Reviews Actions On 69th Birthday

By ROBERT G. NIXON

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 8—(INS)—Former President Truman declared today that establishment of a "hard" policy toward world Communsit aggression by the United States was the "most important" achievement of his two administrations.

Truman asserted that this policy had ended isolationism in this country.

In a philosophic mood on his 69th birthday, the former president discussed the circumstances under which a new foreign policy toward the world was developed in the postwar years.

He said that, in this atomic age, the U. S. is living in a totally different world from that which existed when the nation was founded under George Washington.

HIGH POINT

Truman maintained that the nation had been right under Washington, who then warned in his farewell address against "foreign entanglements," but is just as right in the world of today when it assumes its rightful responsibility in helping the free world defend itself against Communism.

The former president was asked today during a small birthday gathering in his Kansas City office what he considered the "high point" of his seven years and nine months in the White House.

With no hesitation, Truman responded:

"It was establishment of the hard foreign policy of the United States and termination of isolationism."

GREATEST THRILL

He recalled that his greatest thrill in office came on March 17, 1947, when he stood before a joint session of Congress in the historic House of Representatives chamber and enunciated the "Truman Policy."

This was the policy laid down in the bold message he read to Congress that day stating that the U. S. must extend its frontier of defense to Greece and Turkey, which were then in grave danger of being swallowed up by Communist aggression.

The British government had informed the U. S. that the British no longer could maintain defense forces in Greece to fight the Communist guerrilla army that had poured down from Albania and Bulgaria into Greece and taken over the greater part of that country.

GREECE, TURKEY

Truman stated flatly that military assistance from the U. S. saved Greece and Turkey from being swallowed up behind the Iron Curtain, and probably prevented Communist conquest of the whole Eastern Mediterranean and the Middle East.

He said that the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, ECA, mutual assistance and various other round-the-world U. S. defense and foreign aid moves developed naturally from this new foreign policy.

Truman said:

"The establishment of this hard foreign policy was, I believe, the most important thing that happened in my administration.

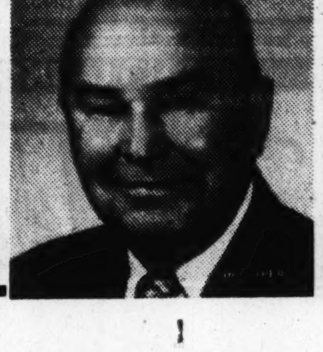

"I maintained a bipartisan foreign policy throughout."

The former president asserted this bipartisan policy was maintained until last year's political campaign. He said it then fell under attack.

He said: "I maintained a strictly bipartisan foreign policy until partisanship was inserted into the 1952 campaign."

Do You Want A "Part Time" Mayor?

Atlanta citizens were shocked to hear Charlie Brown say on television that "being Mayor is only a part-time job."

To those interested in the financial standing of the City of Atlanta; to working men and women with limited time to see the Mayor; to business men expecting a business-like administration of city affairs, such an attitude on the part of a candidate for mayor is irresponsible and shows a shocking ignorance of city administration.

British Say Suez Defense Major Issue

LONDON, May 8—(UP)—Britain has refused Egypt's demand for unconditional evacuation of the Suez Canal zone unless adequate arrangements for defense of the area are agreed upon, authoritative sources revealed today.

Prime Minister Churchill made that clear in a message he sent Egyptian premier Mohammed Naguib through the British ambassador to Cairo Sir Ralph Stevenson, the sources said.

Officials explained that the "door remains open" to further negotiations on the future of the Canal Zone which the British have occupied and defended for 70 years. But, the sources said no new proposals have been made by the British to the Egyptians since the talks were deadlocked earlier this week over the Egyptian demand for unconditional evacuation.

Discussions next week between U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, who arrives in Cairo Monday, and Naguib may pave the way for new Anglo-Egyptian talks on the Canal Zone, the sources said.
